SURVIVORS OF LUCKNOW

London, Sept. 28.

A man and a woman who were children living in the Residency at Lucknow during the Indian Mutiny seventy-six years ago, when General Outram and Havelock cut through the mutineers who were besieging the city and joined hands with the British garrison before being themselves invested, met at a reunion dinner at Cheltenham last night.

They are Mr. Arthur F. Dashwood, of London, who was born during the siege, and Mrs. Kathleen Haynes, daughter of Thomas Henry Kavanagh, whose heroism in escaping through native lines in disguise and guiding Sir Colin Campbell's relief force into the city was rewarded with the Victoria Cross. It is stated that of all the children in Lucknow at the time only nine now survive.

NEW ASSISTANT POLICE COMMISSIONER

Scotland Yard last night issued the following:—"The King, on the recommendation of the Home Secretary, has approved the appointment of Brigadier James Whitehead, C.M.G., D.S.O., as Assistant Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police."

"With the approval of the Secretary of State Mr. George Abbot, O.B.E., is promoted to the rank of Deputy Assistant Commissioner. The appointment will date from September 20."

Brigadier Whitehead is Deputy Assistant Commissioner of the district which embraces the greater part of the West End of London. Mr. Abbot, at present a chief constable at Scotland Yard, is the first man for a number of years who has been promoted from a policeman working in the streets to an executive position at Scotland Yard.

WOMEN FREEMASONS

The twenty-first anniversary of the foundation of the Honourable Fraternity of Ancient Masons—the only all-women's Freemasonry movement—was marked last night by the consecration and dedication at St. Ermin's, Westminster, of the new headquarters of the fraternity. The ceremony was worked by the Grand Master, Mrs. Elizabeth Boswell-Roid, who was one of the original founders of the fraternity, and she was assisted by Mrs. Seton Challen, the Deputy Grand Master; another of the original founders, and Mrs. Pierre Dyer, the Pro-Grand Master.

At the conclusion of the consecration ceremony the Pro-Grand Master, on behalf of the fraternity, presented the Grand Master with the jewel of her office, a sun in rose diamonds with a sapphire in the centre.

THINGS PEOPLE FORGET

The Southern Railway's annual clearance sale of goods left in trains will take place on Monday. The catalogue, which I have examined, is a monument to man's forgetfulness.

I sympathise with the umbrella-lovers, who easily head the list. For the benefit of statisticians I record the fact, the result of prolonged calculation, that women outnumber men in this class by 3 to 2. A total of 4000 female "chubbies" umbrellas—there are apparently no others—was left in trains during the past year, and only 2061 male. Of the latter seven were bookmakers, four of them slightly faulty.

ABSENT-MINDED SAILORS

But umbrellas, and even whisks, gloves, mackintoshes, and hats—let ladies and only men—men—are the common stuff of forgetfulness: it is the more intimate articles of apparel that defeat me. How did sixty sailors come to overlook the loss of their trousers?

Were the fourteen gentlemen who lost five morning coats, eight dress coats and one frock coat all members of the same cheerful party?

The other losses are superbly various. Quantities of bicycles and perambulators, gramophones, saxophones, fifty-two cut-throat razors, an Axminster carpet fifty yards long, a bottle of whisky, and seventy-two garden rakes are a random sample.

There were twenty-six unfortunate who left their false teeth behind them.

SUPERB ORATORY

Mrs. Annie Besant's career, the storm and stress that accompanied theosophic calm, will make her a first-rate subject for the biographer. Action rather than contemplation was certainly her true métier. She was a superb orator.

I happened to be in Bombay in 1919, when she gave three lectures in the largest theatre in India's Reformed Constitution. Gandhism at the time was young and vigorous, and as Mrs. Besant was then among the Moderates, the students from the University, who were pro-Gandhi to a man, turned up in force, determined to prevent her getting a hearing.

A CONTEST OF WILLS

As soon as she rose to speak pandemonium broke loose. Shouts, boos, howls, and hand-clapping made her inaudible. Clad in a long, flowing, white robe, the old lady, with snow-white hair, stood in statuesque calm amid the hideous din.

Presently it died down, and, in her thrilling, still beautiful voice, she spoke two or three sentences. Again the storm broke loose, and again she waited.

It was a contest of wills—hers against the mob's. And she won. Each time the shouting died down she spoke, and each time she spoke for a little longer before the noise broke out anew. In the end she was speaking in perfect silence to an audience that hung on every word.

MRS. BESANT'S SON

Mrs. Besant's son, Mr. Arthur Digby Besant, retired only last April, at the age of 84, from the position of general manager of the Clerical, Medical and General Life Assurance Society and of the General Reversionary and Investment Company. He is now living at Hampstead.

He is a Fellow of University College, London, and was chairman of the Life Offices' Association and a member of the Royal Commission on National Health Insurance. He has written a number of books on finance and insurance.

THE KING AND L.C.

The King received through the post, at Balmoral Castle, this morning, an autographed copy of Mr. Lloyd George's "War Memoirs." The publishers had prepared a special leather-bound copy, which they had intended to give to Mr. Lloyd George himself. The book was taken down to Chert. Its author signed his name, added a warm tribute to the King's services to his people in the war, and read, dressed in Balmoral.

THE CHAMPIONS

Nineteen white roses in a silver bowl formed a table-centre at a dinner party in London on Saturday night. They represented the nineteen county championship victors of the Yorkshire cricket team, in whose honour the dinner was given.

The dinner was given at the Savoy Hotel by Sir Charles Sikes, of Huddersfield, and Mr. Clifford Hart, of Leeds, and Sir Charles said that, so certain had he been of Yorkshire's chances of success, he had made arrangements for the dinner and invited other guests long before the championship was

A VIRGINIA WOOLF HOUND

Books about dogs are numerous; there is no subject on which the Englishman can become so sentimental, unless it be the horse. But the dogs written about thus far have been imaginary or have been the authors' own pets, seen through too forgiving eyes.

Mrs. Virginia Woolf, however, has just written a biography of a dog. "Flush: a Biography" is the title, and Flush was the spaniel owned by Mrs. Browning. I do not think a real "historical character" of a dog has ever been treated in this way before. The book comes out next month.

THE MASTER OF KINNAIRD

Rossie Priory, Lord Kinnaird's beautiful seat in Perthshire, will be open to-day, when his son and heir, the Master of Kinnaird, comes of age.

The Master carries on the tradition of his house by being engaged in banking. Like others of his family, he is keenly interested in religious work.

One of his sisters is the wife of the Rev. Hugh Gough, vicar of St. Paul's, Bath.

Another, Miss Anne Kinnaird, joined the Salvation Army. Some years ago she went to live in a small house in Barking in order to devote herself to work among the poor.

FASHIONS IN SPECTACLES

London, Sept. 28.

It was noted to-day that many of the spectacle-makers with stalls at the Optical Trade Exhibition had successfully abandoned their usual professional austerity and had the nerve to wear men who know how to break down their resistance. The explanation was evident in the exhibition in the hundreds of pairs of spectacles of many colours, of almost every conceivable shape, which are so unusual-looking that only an expert salesman could hope to press them upon the ordinary public, that is obliged to wear spectacles.

The "trade" is firm in its belief that the day of the tortoiseshell frame is at an end. Tortoiseshell frames were made popular by an American optician shortly after the war, and to-day in the West Indies there is a shortage of tortoiseshell. The smart glasses are of light-coloured tortoiseshell, almost amber colour, which is the closest of all to the natural colour of the tortoiseshell. The newest spectacle frames which range from white to jet, from jade green to scarlet, are of plastic material. One set seen to-day was of multi-coloured metal. The notion is that your spectacle frame should match the colour of your clothes.

Spectacles are now being made to blend with the curves of the face. In a "well-cut" pair the top edge of the lens should follow the curve of the eyebrow line, one edge hugs the side of the nose, and the lower edge fits into the cheek. As an expert said to-day, without ornament: "A modern optician is not satisfied unless his customer looks as though they had been born wearing

FOR FOOT COMFORT

Baths are excellent for keeping the feet supple and free from blemishes. Epsom salts, bath mustard, or any of the reliable substances advertised for foot-bathing, should be dissolved in water as hot as it can comfortably be borne, and the feet should be soaked for fifteen or twenty minutes, then carefully dried (especially between the toes) and given a final massage with lemon juice or olive oil. It is an excellent practice to rub the feet daily with lemon juice or, if the feet are dry, with a few drops of castor oil. It is best to file the toe-nails straight across the top, rather than to round them, while the feet are being got into good condition.

Dust Rubber Gloves After Using Them

Before using rubber gloves and after removing them from the hands sprinkle them with cornstarch or talcum powder to preserve them.

Garnish Aids Cold Sliced Meat Platters

Sliced cold meats are very appetizing if arranged on an attractive plate and garnished with parsley and bits of crisp lettuce.

WASHING SHANTUNG SILK

Great care should be taken when washing and ironing Shantung silk, as if treated in the wrong manner it becomes hard and papery and has a mottled appearance. It should be washed in warm water and in a lather of soap flakes, and on no account should soap be rubbed on to the material itself. If the colour becomes too light with washing it can be restored by rinsing the silk in water coloured with a little tea. It should not be hung out to dry in the shade. When it is bone dry it can be ironed on the wrong side with a moderately hot iron.

USE COLD WATER IN MAKING MEAT BROTH

To draw out the flavors of meats, as for broths, start the cooking in cold water and bring very slowly to the boiling point.

CHOPPED PICKLE AIDS TO SANDWICH FLAVOUR

Oil pickles, diced or drained and ground, greatly enhance the flavor of any of the prepared sandwich mixtures. You will find that sliced dill pickles, placed on cheese sandwiches before they are slipped under the broiler flame gives them added tang.

Mint Flavour Pleasant In Variety Of Dishes Besides Roast Lamb

Most of us associate mint with lamb, but it can be used in many other combinations with equal success. It long has been regarded in England as helpful in correcting flatulence and the English people use it with new peas and new potatoes for this purpose.

You will find mint useful in several combinations to give variety to old standbys. One of the least used and one of the best combinations is that of mint and new cabbage. One tablespoon minced mint leaves added to one cup of shredded cabbage and the whole dressed with oil and lemon juice makes a zesty and delicious salad. Tomatoes stuffed with this combination will be sure to please. Sliced cucumbers sprinkled with fresh minced mint leaves another appetizing combination.

GIVES SEASONAL TOUCH
The use of mint with fruits is legion. All fruit cups are given an alluring and seasonal touch when mint is included among their ingredients. Grapefruit gains new interest when mint is sprinkled over it. Bananas used in any way are vastly improved when given a generous sprinkling of minced mint. Sprigs of mint served in iced tea and chilled fruit drinks add a decidedly refreshing flavor to the beverage.

Sometimes merely bruising mint leaves in the bowl in which a fruit cup or salad is to be mixed imparts sufficient mint flavor. At other times the minced mint leaves are wanted for a definite mint flavor.

Fruits molded in mint jelly in place of the usual lemon jelly are inviting. Mint sherbet is an ideal dessert for warm weather dinners. Mint ice often takes the place of sauce or jelly with roast lamb at a formal dinner.

MINT SYRUP

Two cups fresh mint leaves (minced), 2 cups sugar, 1 cup lemon juice, 1-3/4 cups water, 1-2 teaspoon salt.

Cover leaves with sugar and pound with a wooden potato masher. Add salt, lemon juice and water and bring to the boiling point. Let simmer about fifteen minutes until the mixture is syrupy. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

One to two tablespoonfuls of this syrup can be poured over vanilla ice cream and the whole topped with whipped cream to make an impromptu mint "parfait."

IN LIGHTER VEIN

A suburban housewife entered a jeweler's shop and leaned confidently over the counter.

"Mr. Gold," she commenced, gushingly, "I want your advice. I've just bought this little ring at the sale over the roads, but I don't know how to pronounce the name. Is it turquoise or turk-ness?"

The jeweler handled the ring. "The correct pronunciation, madam," he said, after a while, "is glass." — Answers.

A CANDY-FILLED DOLL

Take a clean bottle, about five inches high. Fill it with little pieces of hard mixed candy. Close the bottle with a cork which extends a little above the neck. Stuff a piece of white material with cotton or snipped cloth and arrange it over the cork to form the doll's head. Mark eyes, nose and mouth with pencil or crayons.

For doll's dress cut a piece of gay material long enough to reach from the neck of the bottle to the bottom. The piece should be wide enough to make a full skirt. Gather and fasten about the neck of the bottle. Tie a ribbon sash about the bottle where the doll's waistline is to be. Fold a three-cornered piece of material about the neck for a shawl. You will not need to bother about making arms, since it will appear that they are under the shawl.

Perhaps you would like to make such a candy-filled doll for a little friend's birthday or Christmas gift.

SEASONED BOATS WITH EGGS

1 lb. potatoes, egg, and seasoning. Boil the potatoes, drain, beat up with a little milk and butter. Form into oblong shapes and scoop out a spoonful from the middle of each to make them look like boats. Go over the outside with a fork, and brush with a beaten egg, dust with chopped parsley and brown in the oven.

Take as many eggs as there are boats, break one into each hollow, dust with pepper and salt and chopped parsley and return to the oven till the eggs are set.

COOKERY NOOK

Get a nice piece of veal and brown it all over in pork or bacon fat. Take it out, and put in the dish some onions, a little garlic, if you like the flavour, and a tablespoonful of tomato puree. Moisten with a little water, put back the piece of veal, and let it cook very gently for a couple of hours.

Three-quarters of an hour before you want it, add some stoned olives. Mushrooms may be added instead of the olives if preferred.

FINGER GUARDS

Crochet-work hats and caps are fashionable now, and many of them are made from a rather fine hard thread. This thread, when it is being crocheted, is apt to cut the middle finger of the left hand, round which it passes. It is advisable to protect this finger by wearing a glove finger cut from an old suede or wash-leather glove.

I am sure she would be pleased to get such a sweet gift.

THE CARE OF YOUR DOG

Some Hints About Diet

Some time ago we told you about an excellent Vermil Powder to use for your dog, we shall tell you something about the right kind of food to give your pet. Feeding is one of the most important things in a dog's life, for on correctness of feeding depend the dog's health, and charm as a companion. A badly fed dog cannot be a healthy dog, and therefore is not pleasant to have about. Many people have the haziest ideas on how a dog should be fed, and if you ask them, they will hazard an opinion that "scraps" and perhaps a little milk is an all sufficient diet. Nothing could be more erroneous. Never give a dog milk or sloppy food. The dog's stomach is relatively small and its gastric juices are very powerful; it can therefore deal with hard food with great ease. It is absolutely necessary for the dog's health that it should be given food of this description.

Dry food is also good for the teeth, and without it the teeth will soon become decayed and the gums tender. A dog should never be fed at table, or between times, but should be given two square meals a day. Dog biscuits have reached such perfection that they should always form the basis of doggy diet. Meat is contained in most of the dog biscuits but the addition of raw or cooked meat is frequently advisable. Spiller Dog Biscuits are among some of the best known, and if you will mix some of these broken up and mixed with a little gravy, meat and green vegetables to a crumbly consistency. Strictly speaking the dog should have nothing more all the evening meal and it is best to resist those pleading eyes at tea time when the greedy humans are gobbling cake and bread and butter. It is recommended that the last meal of the day be given in the evening and be fed dry. It should consist of Spiller's Shapes or Spiller's Dog or Puppy Biscuits. Whatever the breed the biscuits should be fed dry for one meal of the day, for the tearing and crunching of the hard dry biscuit is most essential to the teeth and gums for general health. All dogs should have bones twice a week, but never small ones or chicken or rabbit as these are apt to splinter, and may stick in their throat.

EVER TRIED OATMEAL POTATO SCONES?

MASHED POTATOES AND APPLE SAUCE

1 lb. potatoes, Seasoning, 1 lb. apples, 2oz. butter, 2oz. sugar, 1 gill milk. Wash and peel the potatoes and place into a saucepan, with water to cover, and a teaspoonful of salt. Boil gently until tender. Strain off the water and dry. Mash with a fork and add 1oz. of butter and the milk. Season with pepper and salt.

Peel and core and quarter the apples and stew them until a dry mash. Add the sugar and 1oz. of butter. Make a border of the potatoes.

WITH CANDIED PEEL AND CURRANTS

1 lb. potatoes, 2oz. nut of butter, 1/2 little milk, 2oz. currants, 3 tablespoonfuls sugar, 1 egg. Mash the boiled potatoes with the butter and a little milk, add the currants, chopped candied peel, the grated rind of a lemon, and the sugar.

Stir well together, then add a beaten egg, spread a greased pie dish with raspberry jam, pour in the mixture, and bake in a moderate oven for half an hour.

OATMEAL POTATO SCONES

1 lb. cold mashed potatoes, 1oz. butter, 2 tablespoonfuls milk, 1/2 lb. oatmeal and a pinch of salt. Warm the milk and butter and mix with the mashed potatoes, add the salt and work in the oatmeal. Roll out very thinly, cut and place in a greased frying-pan and cook three minutes on each side.

Or in a similar ring round the upper part of a mirror the shoulder. This gives a slight suggestion of a short shoulder sleeve.

If the buttons are metal or a contrasting colour they are most effective worn this way. — A Snake

I recently saw a perfectly plain but well-cut dress of light-weight grey woollen fabric devoid of any decoration such as collar or cuffs. The outstanding feature was a curious snake fastening at one side of the waist. Blanket Stitch Circular buttonholes are worked with blanket stitch in beige wool. Fabric tabs are slotted through and finally fastened over lozenge-shaped buttons.

Huge chromium hooks and eyes and metal fastenings made in various angles are also worn.

Metal buckles are seen a great deal on dresses. Three or four will be placed on the top of a frock quite close together.

A NEW FABRIC FOR FURNISHING

Linen Looks So Smooth

When all the ingenious and artistic devices of the manufacturer have been considered one must always return to linen as the queen of furnishing fabrics, especially for use in hot climates. It is so cool in effect and to the touch, the patterns are so lovely, it falls in such graceful folds. Best of all it tones as no other fabric can with the newest of furnishing schemes.

Pale pinks and blues combine in these. It sounds a crude combination but is exquisite when an oatmeal shade for the walls forms the background. Keep the walls and woodwork of the oatmeal shade but have the furniture enameled the delicate pink that is seen in a Neapolitan ice and match it with the mosquito net. Blue taffets will make your bedspread and cushions and blue bowls on the dressing-table and in the window will be filled with carnations or other suitable flowers. The linen curtains are daintily sprigged with tiny pink and blue flowers and the single upholstered chair has a loose cover of the same linen.

This is the exact description of a new furnishing scheme recently suggested by an expert in England for a bedroom in Ceylon. All the pastel shades, such as lilac, primrose, jade and egg-shell blue are in vogue and may be blended judiciously but those who have seen the pink and blue room are never satisfied until they have achieved something similar.

If you are planning a blue and pink bedroom an early-morning tea set in these shades would be delightful.

YOUR BEAUTY SLEEP

Don't Neglect It

It's a well established fact that the most beautiful girls take the most liberties with their beauty. We often find a less lovely girl or woman acquiring more charm and beauty as she grows older, but the more beautiful girl often loses her freshness and charm.

Why? Because the beautiful girl is more popular than the homely one during those early years when girls first begin to go to theatres and dances. And because of her youth and vitality and health, the elements that make for her beauty, she can stand the strain for some time without marring her appearance. Consequently, when she fails to see signs of disaster from her neglect of health rules, she believes she is the exception and so continues on her merry way. The crash comes suddenly and then a long rest is necessary.

The less attractive girl, however, has had her sleep because she hasn't been invited out so much. She has filled in many lonely hours on long walks. She has studied herself with a view to improving her posture, her complexion, her manner, and suddenly everyone notices that she is a truly lovely girl.

Far be it from me to make "stay-at-homes" out of any of you. There is too much laughter and fun and pleasure in mingling with congenial companions, but how many times have you lingered at the dance until your feet ached, your nose was shiny beyond redemption, shadows smeared your eyes, a stiff artificial, mechanical reaction to a spirit that was too tired to enjoy itself further?

Just how much rest you, as an individual, require, I can't say, although eight hours' sleep is the common accepted rule. Personally, however, I know of many women who have better health and are more refreshed after seven hours' sleep than they are after eight or nine.

If you wake up tired and unprepared for the day's activities, add half an hour to your sleeping time. If after a few days the condition persists, add still another half-hour.

Also remember that lack of fresh air in your bedroom causes circles and puffiness under the eyes just the same as lack of sufficient sleep.

Too much bedding frequently prevents a good night's rest. Night-dresses or pyjamas always should be loose enough to make perfect relaxation possible. With plenty of fresh air, adequate but not too much covering and comfortable sleeping garments, every woman will find that, coupled with a reasonable amount of sleep, her physical energies are restored so that she has the health and vitality not only to meet each new day, but some left over to keep the exceptionally hard days from taking their toll of her beauty.

The newest bed-room clocks are absolutely silent. You cannot hear them tick even when you hold them to your ear. A time-piece like this is a great comfort to an invalid who is often kept awake by such trifles as a clock's ticking. In a pretty shade of blue with chromium plated mounts these clocks are a "finish" to any room.

EGG AND POTATO PIE

Slice thinly 6 large cold boiled potatoes and 3 hard boiled eggs. Butter a baking dish and dispose a layer of the sliced potatoes, sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper and pour over some sour cream. Cover with a layer of egg, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Repeat until potatoes, sour cream and egg have been used. Arrange for the last layer to be of potatoes. Cover with buttered crumbs. Bake in a hot oven until crumbs are brown and the eggs and potatoes thoroughly heated.

BROILED TOMATOES ON TOAST

Prepare the desired number of rounds of toast (6 in this recipe). Make 1 1/2 cups thin white sauce, using thin cream in place of milk. Peel and cut in halves, crosswise, 3 firm tomatoes. Dip each half in melted butter, then in fine seasoned cracker crumbs. Broil in a greased broiler or in an omelette pan in oven until tomatoes are soft and crumbs are browned. Dip toast in hot sauce, dispose on a hot dish, set a half of broiled tomato over each round, straining remaining sauce around toast and sprinkle with grated cheese.

SPICED DOUGHNUTS

Beat 3 eggs until thick and lemon tinted. Add 1 1/2 cups soft brown sugar, 3/4 tablespoons soft butter. Mix and sift 5 cups flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/2 spoon cloves. Add alternately to first mixture, with 1 1/2 cup sour cream or sour milk. Chill dough, roll, shape as other doughnuts and fry in deep, hot fat. Drain on brown paper and when cold, dust over with icing sugar.

SUMMER PIE

Green peas, 1 lettuce, 1 onion, 1 egg; 1 teaspoon salt, puff of short pastry. Shell the peas and boil in a little water with salt and sliced onion. Well wash the lettuce, shred it, place in a pie dish and when the peas are done, add them, including the liquor in which they have been boiled. Sprinkle the mint over the top. Cover with paste in the usual way, brush over with beaten egg, and bake in a rather hot oven for about 1 hour.

COMPOTE OF APRICOTS

12 Beaulac canned apricots; 1 lb. loaf sugar; 1 pint water. Divide the apricots, in two. Put the sugar and water into a sugar boiler on the stove. When it boils put in the apricots. Simmer for 2 minutes. Put the apricots on a glass dish. Reduce the syrup until it spins a small thread and pour over.

HOME MADE FUDGE

Ingredients:—1 lb. granulated sugar, 2 ozs. unsweetened chocolate, 1 tea-cup chopped nuts, butter size of a walnut, 2 tea-cups milk, few drops vanilla.

Method:—Grate the chocolate, and put it into a pan along with the sugar, butter, and milk. Heat slowly over the fire, stirring all the time, until the sugar is quite melted. Simmer, stirring steadily till the mixture reaches 240 deg. F. or, when tested in cold water, will form a soft ball. Remove the saucepan from the fire, add the prepared and chopped nuts, and the vanilla. Continue stirring until the mixture thickens slightly, then pour at once on to a buttered dish. When set but not cold, mark into squares, and break in pieces when quite cold. This sweet may be made richer by using half cream and half milk.

ORANGE FOAM

Ingredients:—Pint packet orange jelly, 1 tea-cup orange juice, 2 1/2 tea-cups boiling water. Dissolve the packet of jelly in the boiling water. Stir occasionally till cold, then add the strained orange juice (if sour, add sugar to taste). Place on fire and when slightly set, switch with a wire whisk till the mixture becomes a foam. Pile up on a glass dish, and keep on ice till required. Dessert:—For this serve: Chateau ginger, and a dish of plantains. These make an excellent combination.

DO YOU KNOW YOURSELF?

Do you know how you talk? Are you aware that your voice can sometimes be very soothing and sometimes very harsh and grating? It is well to know this, and to regulate the voice, you regulate the volume of the voiceless.

Do you know how you look when you are angry? If you catch a fleeting glimpse of yourself in a mirror when you are in a temper, the sight will surely cause you to make a mental vow to curb that temper in future. You don't want other people to see you with your face twisted by passion.

Do you know how you eat? Maybe your eyes glitter at the sight of a favourite dish, may you forget small niceties when you tackle that dish. It isn't a bad plan to eat in front of a mirror occasionally, and to note your appearance.

Do you know that you look better with your face in repose than you do with a deliberately put on expression? You have only to look at the face of a sleeping person to realise this.

Do you know what makes some people dislike you?

It is not sufficient merely to know why others like you. That is easy to find out. It isn't so easy to admit that you have faults which make people hate the very sight of you. It stands to reason that, even as you say, "I don't like Mrs. A," others are saying, "I can't stand Mrs. B." And they mean you.

Know yourself, first by admitting that you have faults, and then by finding out exactly what those faults are.

Smile A While

Mother (from staircase)—"Tommy for goodness sake, turn off that loud-speaker. That horrible woman's voice is giving me a splitting headache."

Tommy—"But, mother, that isn't the radio—it's Mrs. Brown come to visit you!"

STUFFED PIMENTO

Pimentos (Sweet Peppers), green and scarlet, look very pretty in the shop windows—indeed almost too pretty to eat. You will nevertheless find them excellent when stuffed. The amount of stuffing given here is enough for half a dozen fairly large ones.

Cut off the stalk ends and scoop out the insides without breaking the skins. Chop up two onions with the fleshy part of the cut-off tops of the pimentos and cook them in butter until soft. Then to this add a teaspoonful of stock, two tablespoonfuls of tomato puree, salt and pepper.

Have ready a teaspoonful of rice which has been half cooked, and finish cooking it in the mixture. When it is done, add a little butter, and strain the mixture, keeping the liquid that comes from it.

Stuff the pimentos with the rice mixture, arrange them on a fireproof dish, and bake them in the oven for a quarter of an hour or so, basting them with the liquid you saved from the stuffing mixture.

Some people fry the outside of the pimentos a little before stuffing them, but this is not really necessary unless they are rather old ones.

Don't Dodge The Dentist

BY "THE GUIDE'S" DOCTOR

The more I see of the teeth of people the more am I convinced that there is general procrastination of a visit to the dentist's until it is too late.

Adults who ought by now to realise that dental science is almost painless keep on postponing the all-important visit until anything but wholesale extraction is useless.

Human excess in matters of alcohol and food account for a great deal of ill-health. I know, but neglect of the teeth is a great contributory factor to disease.

Some mouths I have examined are so bad a state that I am not surprised patients are ridden with disease. Yet when it is suggested that they visit the dentist they offer strenuous resistance as if I was advocating admission to the lethal chamber. The usual excuse offered is that the patient will go "as soon as I feel a little stronger." At first my nerves are strong enough to stand it. This is a sheer fallacy. So long as the teeth remain in this deplorable state neither strength nor improved nerves will result. In most cases

100,000 HEADACHES RELIEVED IN ONE DAY

EIGHTY MILLION PEOPLE in Britain, France and Belgium. Untold millions in India, Malaya and South Africa—here are but a few of the countries where ASPRO is successful with the millions on account of its pain relieving qualities. To say that ASPRO relieves 100,000 depressing headaches every day throughout the world would be more than a conservative estimate. The reason of ASPRO preference for headaches is because it banishes aches and pain quickly—there are no dangerous after-effects—ASPRO does not harm the heart and it conforms to the standard of purity laid down by the British Pharmacopoeia: the guiding authority of the Medical Profession.

'ASPRO'

Does Not Harm the Heart

5 MINUTES

FOR RELIEF WITH 'ASPRO'

There is nothing indefinite about 'ASPRO'. Its service is QUICK—safe, effective and definite. It gives you relief in 5 to 10 minutes and then goes on to dispel or dissolve the cause of the pain, allowing Nature to effect its own cure. Furthermore, you get no harmful after-effects from 'ASPRO', as it is speedily eliminated from the system a few hours after being taken. It neither dopes, deadens nor drags.

'ASPRO' BRINGS SWEET SLEEP TO THE SLEEPLESS

There are many thousands of people who now have sweet peaceful sleep, who hitherto hardly knew the meaning of a period of restfulness. 'ASPRO' has brought about the transformation by its sweet soothing influence on the nerves, and breaking up of local feverish conditions. Two tablets before retiring is the usual dose.

FIRST AID FOR MOTHERS

Most children are subject to Toothache, Earache, Colds and sudden bursts of Temperature. 'ASPRO' can be safely given to children so affected. It will soothe the pain away and quickly reduce Temperature.

HOW TO GIVE 'ASPRO' TO CHILDREN

Two simple methods of giving 'ASPRO' to the kiddies are: (a) with a little milk; or (b) break the tablet up and administer in a teaspoonful of jam. The dosage is: Children 3 to 5 years, 1 tablet; 6 to 14 years, 1 tablet; 14 to 16 years, 1 1/2 tablets. 'ASPRO' like any other medicine should not be given to babies under 3 years of age without medical advice.

'ASPRO' is Woman's Best Friend

Possibly the greatest users of 'ASPRO' are women, for whom 'ASPRO' has a special charm on account of the varied periodical experiences with which all women are familiar. They surely know just what a wonderful soother and pain dispeller 'ASPRO' is. Millions of women throughout the World now regularly take 'ASPRO' the safe, sure and effective medicine, to relieve their pain and accompanying physical depression, who before had to resort to dangerous drugs, narcotics or opiates. The understanding woman uses 'ASPRO'.

'ASPRO' IS A SAFE & EFFECTIVE GARGLE FOR SORE THROAT & TONSILLITIS

HAWAIIAN WHISK

1 Pint packet of Chivers Pineapple Jelly..... 1 small tin pineapple 1 small tin unsweetened milk one egg grated rind and juice of one lemon.

Beat egg yolks lightly and add lemon. Cook in double boiler until mixture thickens, beat milk and egg white together until stiff and add these. Melt jelly using pineapple syrup and enough water to make one pint. When cool stir in the mixed egg and lemon and add pineapple (cut small). Set in a mould. Turn out and decorate with pineapple and whipped cream.

The very reason for the weakness and shattered nerves is the presence of bad, septic teeth, and the longer there is delay in having them attended the worse will the sufferer become.

If I enumerated all the unpleasant diseases, many of them quite preventable, that can arise from bad teeth you would probably be astounded, for there is scarcely any limit to the mischief that can be wrought by teeth that are affected by such things as pyorrhea.

Parents, if they but realised the havoc that can come from neglect of the teeth in youth, would see to it that their children cleaned their teeth regularly and thoroughly.

No dental effect is too trivial to ignore. The tiniest crack in the protective enamel is a wide-open door for the entry of an army of devastating and destructive disease germs. Only the dentist can call a halt to their onslaught.

Remember that a sound set of teeth goes a long way towards ensuring a clean, bright, healthy face. Never go to bed without first removing every scrap of food material from the teeth by careful brushing.

FOR THE HOSTESS

TIME-SAVING ROLLS

Little finger rolls are much more easily prepared than sandwiches and something in the way of a change. They just need to be split and cut open for filling, whereas sandwiches must be cut evenly and neatly to look appetising.

Any filling suitable for sandwiches can be used for finger rolls, but the rolls must be made from an unsweetened milk bread mixture. Other acceptable items in the finger-supper menu are tiny sausages on cocktail sticks, little sausage rolls, made with flaky pastry, enclosing about two inches of sausage meat, Lane and Crawford's Bakery carry a varied assortment of delicious rolls.

FOR YOUR NOTE BOOK

The taste of fish may be taken from knives, forks and all other domestic utensils by rubbing with a "piece of lemon."

NEW BRUSHES

New brushes, for whatever purpose they are intended, should be soaked in cold water for several hours and thoroughly dried again before they are used. This treatment ensures longer life to the brush and is especially helpful in preventing the bristles from coming out.

SWEET SOUFFLES

Vanilla, chocolate, coffee soufflé; why do we nearly always ring the changes on these hackneyed flavours? Here are a few new ones which might be remembered when next we order this delicious sweet.

Almond. Cherry Brandy, with pieces of brandy cherries added; kirsch and vanilla; vanilla and strawberry; vanilla and praline; orange and praline; Curacao; Chartreuse; Absinthe; Rum and other liqueurs. These liqueurs can be used to perfume a fruit soufflé, too. For instance, a pineapple soufflé can be flavoured with kirsch, as can a cherry soufflé, and most certainly a strawberry one. Curacao mixes excellently with strawberries, too. Pear or apple soufflés should be flavoured with kirsch.

Two unusual soufflés might be noted here. One of them is made with tea in place of milk, and finely chopped pistachio nuts are incorporated into the soufflé mixture. The other is a very pleasant elaboration; a lemon soufflé, with which are handed separately some strawberries covered with a raspberry puree.

BRIGHTER CARPETS

A cloth wrung out of warm vinegar and water mixed in equal proportions will brighten the faded colours of carpets and rugs.

Winter Emergency Measures

CANTON AND THE BLUE SHIRTS SCARE

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, October 17.
To prevent trouble-makers
from spreading alarming rumours against the Kuomintang and the Government, and from starting civil commotion, the Kwangtung
Provincial Government to-day made public the instructions to county magistrates, mayors of towns and judges to arrest such suspicious characters.
The authorities recently received information that mischievous characters from other parts of the country have arrived in different countries in the interior of Kwang-tung to create disturbances "endangering the Party and the nation."

Recently there was a big scare in Canton that certain alleged Blue Shirts were attempting to stage a coup d'etat here, but thanks to the vigilance of the police and military authorities several of their leaders were arrested. There is no more danger in this city, as the military authorities believe that these trouble-makers have left Canton for elsewhere.
To ensure the public safety of Canton, the military authorities here will shortly embark upon
"winter emergency measures" earlier than usual and will extend these precautions until after the Chinese New Year.

RICHEST MAN IN EUROPE

THE EX-KAISER!

A fierce quarrel which has broken out between the ex-Kaiser and the German Government on the question of taxation reveals that the ex-monarch is the richest man in Europe.

For the purposes of taxation the former monarch's fortune has been estimated at 700,000,000 marks
(225,000,000). His representatives however, assert that the ex-Kaiser's fortune "does not approach the tenth part of this fantastic sum" and assert that the estimate is a "false figure made up out of thin air."

The list shows that the ex-Kaiser still owns some of the finest properties in Germany. Among them are seven palaces with the full use of an eighth during his lifetime.
Two castles, a principality, a hunting lodge, an officers' convalescent home, six villas, and several churches.

The trial of Mr. and Mrs. P. A.

Sidoroff, charged with the murder of Mr. A. P. Andrewschenko, 38-year-old proprietor of the Decora

Studio, was begun on Monday, October 9, in the Tientsin District

Court before Judge Ju Nai-chieh.

Mr. P. H. B. Kent and Mr. Chang

Wu-tze appeared as attorneys for the Sidoroffs. Mr. Sun Chi-lien entered the court room in the middle of the morning session and upon being asked by Judge Ju as to his mission, replied that he appeared for the plaintiff Mrs. Andrewschenko.

The wedding is announced to take place shortly of Mr. William

O'Neill, Agent, of 3, Humphrey's

Building, Kowloon, and Miss Margaret Kirkbridge, of 205, West End

the China Navigation Co., Shanghai, and Miss Marie Christina

Martin of Richmond, Surrey, England, and of Pte. James Leale

Bryant, Lincolnshire Regt., Shamshui-po Camp, and Miss Lucy

Leong, dancing girl, of 77, Jaffe

Street.

Commander W. G. Cowland of the Royal Naval Yard was summoned before Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday for parking his car in the lane adjoining Queen's Theatre. Sergeant

Wagland stated that he found the car at about 9 p.m., and on his returning at about 11 p.m. it was still there with nobody in it. At 11.15 he found the defendant in the driving seat. The defendant admitted the facts stated by the Sergeant except that he arrived at the Theatre at 9.25 instead of at the time stated by the S.M. The summons was dismissed.

"MOONLIGHT & PRETZELS"

Musical Revue at the King's

"Moonlight and Pretzels," now showing at the King's Theatre is more or less like a musical revue. Although the story mainly concerns a small time song writer who comes to New York and makes good, there are, as is usual in this type of picture, lulling songs and cleverly staged dance numbers, which makes it one of the most entertaining and amusing films shown in the Colony.

Once established as a successful song writer, George Dwight decides to branch out and produce a show of his own. On the day before the opening, two of his largest backers decide to sell him out, but a gambler who is in love with the leading lady comes to his rescue and the show goes on. That night a rival gambler meets the ingenue, who is in love with George Dwight and determined to make her the star, wins the show from the gambler who originally went to the producer's rescue. Eventually when nobody seems to know whose show it is, the ingenue wins it and everything ends on a note which is as happy as the final note of the number called "Dusty Shoes."

The songs and dance numbers are well staged and above the average musical comedy score, and with a strong cast including Roger Pryor as the song writer, Leo Carrillo as the gambler, Mary Brian as the ingenue, Lillian Miles as the principal of the show and several well-known American Radio stars, the picture is very well worth seeing, particularly by those who like musicals, of course!

"WHEN LADIES MEET"

Robert Montgomery and His Golf

It is harder to miss a golf ball than it is to hit it, according to Robert Montgomery, who had to do both for a scene in "When Ladies Meet," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature which comes on Sunday to the Queen's Theatre with Ann Harding co-starred.

In the scene, Montgomery had to make a series of hefty swings that just missed the tiny white sphere and then, finally, to smack it for a long drive.

"I've practiced to better my drive for years," Montgomery explained, "and I'm aware that I'm no Ben Hogan or Sarazen. But at least I can hit the ball and after practicing so much I found it very difficult to reverse the process by swinging and not hitting it."

After spilling numerous "takes" but hitting the ball squarely on the first swing, Montgomery finally managed to miss it as demanded in the script. He had to pull himself together again for the long drive.

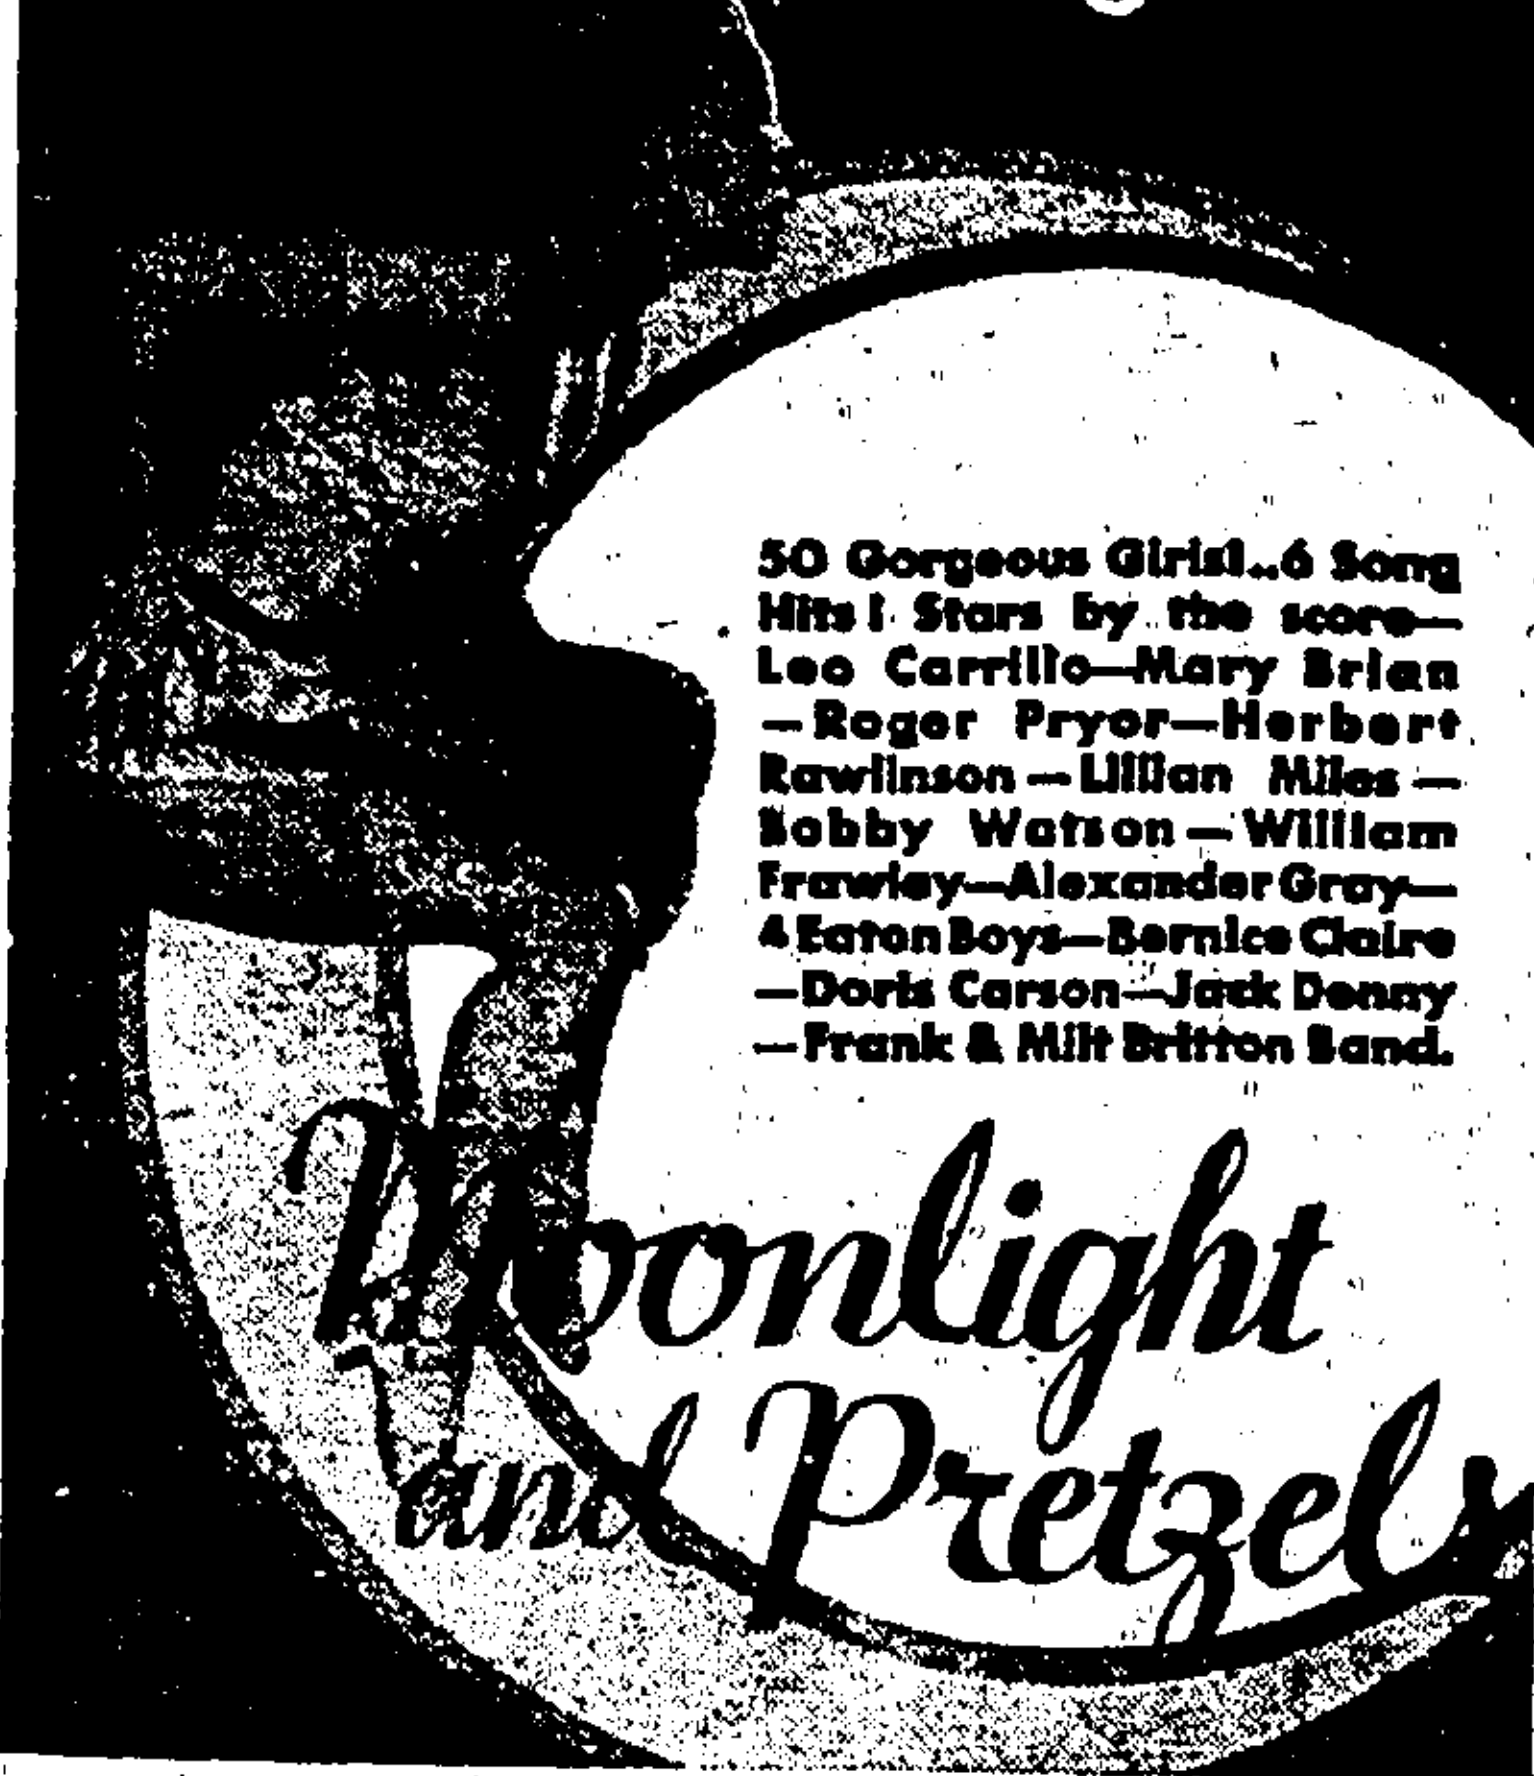

Harry Beaumont directed the new film from the Rachel Crother stage hit. Included in the impressive cast are Myrna Loy, Alice Brady, Frank Morgan, Martin Burton and Lulu Alberini.

"THE PENGUIN POOL MURDER"

An Eccentric Woman Detective

Fun is not always fun, even in a comedy-mystery film such as the Central Theatre's "The Penguin Pool Murder" showing for the last time to-night.

In this picture the inflexible Edna May Oliver portrays an eccentric school-teacher-detective. Her partner is Jimmy Gleason, and the pair of them could make a Wall Street broker laugh on Black Friday. As a schoolmarm, Miss Oliver takes her class of fifteen children to the aquarium to gaze at the fish.

When director George Archainbaud hired the fifteen boys and girls for their bit roles, he forgot one of childhood's chief characterizations: to laugh when amused. As a consequence, time after time scenes were spoiled for Miss Oliver and Gleason when their lines and "mugging" drew uproarious laughter from the youngsters. The kids couldn't help it; they had to laugh.

Archainbaud partially solved the problem by the expedient of calling three extra rehearsals for each bit of action. Repetition removed the sharp edge from the jokes, and the children, with only a giggle now and then, went on with their work.

"MOONLIGHT AND PRETZELS"

Versatile Star in the Lead

Leo Carrillo is more than just one of the outstanding actors of the American stage and screen. He is an arts foundation. He can paint, he can draw, he can sculpt, he can write, he can sing, he can play, he is a linguist, and he is an accredited historian.

An authority on early California history, Carrillo, who has a strong character role in Universal's backstage musical romance, "Moonlight and Pretzels," which opens on Thursday at the King's Theatre, is now writing a book dealing with the early days of the state from an historical standpoint. He is a poet of ability, and recently produced a volume of verse under the title, "Western Breezes." He is a polo player whose prowess is recognized all over the United States. He is an accomplished linguist, and is the only American actor who is an adept conversationalist in Chinese and Japanese.

"I began my public career in the picture business," Carrillo admits with a twinkle, "but they were pictures of an entirely different sort. As a matter of fact I used to be a cartoonist. My first job was on a newspaper in Los Angeles, where I was born, but I was eventually transferred to an associated paper in San Francisco."

"Here I began to appear in amateur theatricals, and my friends united in amateur theatricals, and my friends united in assuring me that I was good. At first I did not pay any attention to these friendly assurances but finally they had their effect. I started for New York, determined to be an actor. That matter of the trip sounds like a simple thing but in reality it was a feat attended by the utmost difficulty. With the improvidence of youth I had not saved any money, and my parents were decidedly 'land poor.' Pioneer residents of California, they owned thousands of acres in the state, but for some time they had found themselves unable to turn any of it into cash."

"However, I was finally able to borrow enough to get to New York, and into a musical comedy called 'Fads and Fancies.'"

"After the show had closed I happened to be playing polo with several actors at a Long Island country club. I had always liked to play polo, and my experience on this day totally justified what I had sometimes called an 'extraneous' producer. The Swilens, famous theatrical producers are sitting in the grandstand, and as I passed them I delivered to my horse an impassioned monologue in comedy Italian dialect. It did not mean anything to the horse, but it did to the Swilens. They promptly engaged me for an Italian character role in 'Twin Beds' which they were about to produce in New York, and this part was the means of setting my feet securely on the theatrical ladder."

"Perhaps because my ancestors

BRUCE CABOT IN "DISGRACED!"

Rising Star of the Films

If background is essential to good acting, then Bruce Cabot, featured in Paramount's "Disgraced!" which opens to-day at the Queen's Theatre, ought to be an expert.

Cabot, who plays the role of the casual lover, started his varied career at fifteen as a prize fighter. Since that time he has been a sailor, civil engineer in South America, oil field worker in Texas, paper salesman in Canada, tramp printer, real estate salesman in Florida, National Guardsman, student at three universities, and finally, actor.

Having done just about everything in the world, he is rapidly reaching movie stardom, now being featured in the film with Helen Twelvetrees, Adrienne Ames, William Harrigan and Ken Murray. The picture is the story of a girl who gives everything for love, only to find that the man she trusted has betrayed her. She is the daughter of a police captain, and it is he who is called to the scene when she confronts her betrayer with a gun.

Cabot's mother wanted him to be a broker, and his father wanted him to go to West Point. Bruce compromised by doing neither. Hollywood wasn't easy at first. Cabot missed many meals and placed most of his belongings in hock.

"I'm glad I didn't get the breaks at first," he says. "If things come too easily, you get confused. I might have gotten a swelled head or something. Knowing how tough this game can be, I deposit two-thirds of my salary every week with my manager. There's always a rainy day—even in California."

While waiting for the "breaks," he chanced to play tennis with Josephine Dillon Gable (Mrs. Clark Gable to you). Through this meeting he renewed old theatrical acquaintances and was soon going to the Mayfair dances and such. It was easier after that.

Cabot is a combination of French, Irish and American Indian. His hawk-like face and stature he attributes to Indian blood, his blue eyes to Irish and his love of the dramatic is inherited from the French.

He is very superstitious and is never without a rabbit's foot given him by an Indian girl, and a teething ring, which he found one day in his Ford.

In my amateur days I had specialized in dialect characterizations of these two nationalities, and my subsequent stage appearance soon found me playing such parts. There were 'Lombardi, Lid,' 'Mister Antonio,' 'The Padre,' 'The Bad Man,' and other such plays—but I must admit that the role which gave me the greatest pleasure was Tarkington's 'Magnolia'.

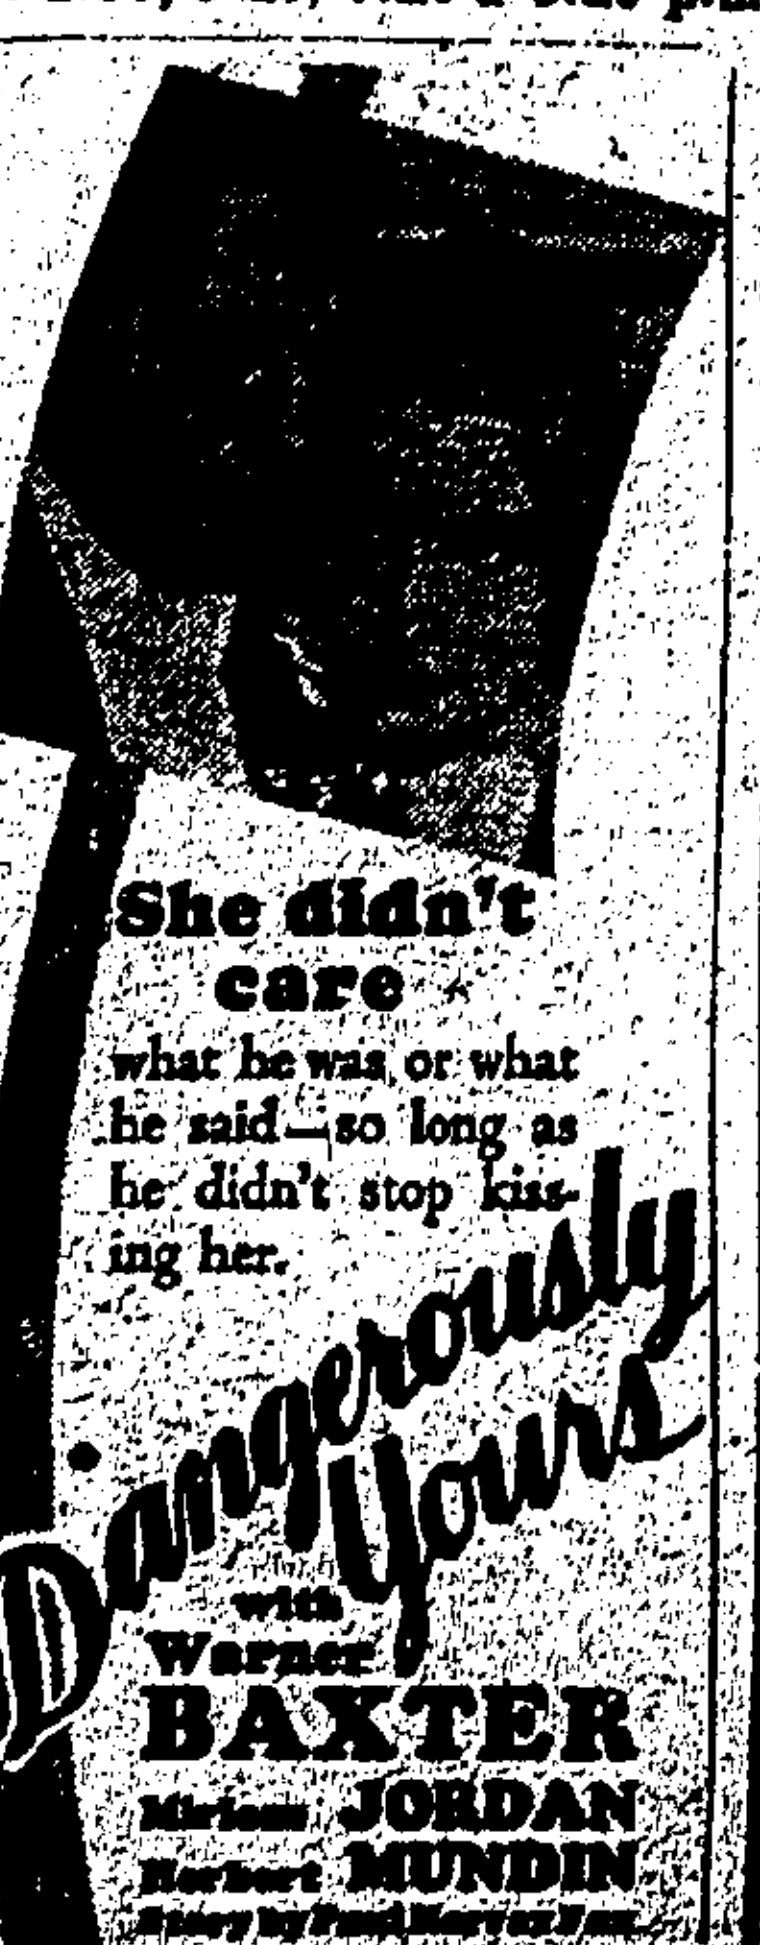

In "Moonlight and Pretzels" Carrillo deserts his Italian dialect and assumes that of a Greek, the role being that of a big-time gambler. Also among the galaxy of stage, screen and radio artists, are Roger Pryor, youthful Broadway stage star who makes his picture debut in the Universal musical, Alexander Gray, Bernice Claire, Jack Denney and his orchestra, Doris Carson, The Four Eton Boys, Herbert Rawlinson, the famous

LETTERS OF PROCEEDINGS.

Sir.—In obedience to your orders, I proceeded in company with H.M. Gunboats, Forrester and Janus, to Cupehi, accompanied by Mr. Caldwell, Registrar General, off which place we arrived at 10.30 a.m. on the 4th instant, having been detained 24 hours in Chimo Bay from stress of weather. On arrival we were welcomed by the Elder of the Town, who related to us the atrocities which had been committed in his district by the miscreant pirates, he having lost a brother and nephew, besides property to the amount of Five Thousand Dollars, a portion of which had been disposed of at Hutung. He also informed us that the pirate force consisted of seven junks, commanded by the noted chief Momema, who, Mr. Caldwell states, has been at the head of piracies in these waters for the last five years. Receiving on board the Elder of Cupehi, who was most anxious to accompany us, we proceeded to Chelank, but found they had gone to sea or had gone South. I therefore proceeded to Blas Bay but found they had not been there for some time.

From the information that we gathered from fishermen, there remained no doubt that having landed a part of the cargoes of the captured junks at Hutung, they would endeavour to land the remainder there as soon as they had ascertained we had gone away. On the following morning, I returned to Hutung, and landed with the armed boats, and through Mr. Caldwell demanded that they should deliver up the cargoes. They admitted that a portion of the cargo, to the amount of $2,000 had been landed there, but was not there at that time, excepting 200 bags of Sugar, which had been ransomed by the Owner. I therefore, with the concurrence of Mr. Caldwell, told them that they must pay an indemnity of $1,000, giving two hours for consideration, at the end of which time, if my demand was not acceded to, I should set fire to the Town. Having waited two hours and upwards without their showing any signs of coming to terms, I fired a few rockets at interval over the Town, when they ultimately consented to pay the money by a given time, upon which I returned to the ship, informing them that unless the agreement was fulfilled I should adopt more severe measures in the morning. At 10 o'clock p.m., a boat came on board with a Note from the Elders of Cupehi, who were perfectly satisfied, and expressed their thanks for the service we had rendered them.

In conclusion I must beg to bring to your notice the zealous manner the duties were performed by the Officers commanding the Gunboats. I have the honour to be, Sir, your obedient servant.

Acting Commander.

THE COTTON CONFERENCE AT SIMLA

Japanese Demand Big Cut in Preference

Tokyo, October 10.
On receipt of a detailed report from the Japanese delegation in Simla concerning the proceedings of the second conversation between Japanese and Indian private representatives which took place on October 6th, the Japan Cotton Spinners' Association, and the Japan Cotton Textile Exporters' Association held a joint committee meeting on Saturday afternoon (7th instant), in order to decide their future attitude.

The upshot of the discussion, which lasted for over four hours, was a decision to send instructions to Mr. Kurata, senior delegate, on the following two points:—

REDUCTION IN DUTY DEMANDED

1.—In regard to the reduction of the 75 per cent duty, which the Japanese delegation has been demanding, the present difference of 50 per cent. between British and Japanese goods should be brought down to ten per cent, the preference given by India to British goods in accordance with the Ottawa agreement. The present rate of 75 per cent. should then be reduced to 35 per cent.

BOYCOTT OF INDIAN COTTON TO CONTINUE

2.—The attitude of the Japan Cotton Spinners' Association in regard to the boycott of Indian cotton is as firm as ever. Should the present parleys between Japan and Indian fail to bring about a satisfactory result, therefore, all Japanese spinners are resolved to continue their boycott at whatever cost.

The above instruction was dispatched to Mr. Kurata, the same afternoon. According to information received by the Japan Cotton Spinners' Association, the British delegation, which has been expecting to leave Bombay on October 14th for home, has now decided to postpone the date and booked passages by a vessel sailing on the 28th. This may be due to the fact that the parley between British and Indian traders has already been practically finished and also the British anticipation that the negotiations between Japanese and Indian traders will have made sufficient progress by that time to form an idea as to the ultimate outcome. Japanese spinners here, however, are of opinion that the bookings of the passages is nothing but a sort of diplomatic tactics to suggest the strong British attitude.

The Notes affirm that the Indo-Japanese Commercial Treaty, which lapses on the 10th instant, continues valid for another month, during which time the present duties on the goods imported into each country from the other remain unchanged, and that in the event of a new agreement not being concluded by November 10th, another extension of the period of validity will be made according to the conditions to be fixed by the Japanese and Indian delegates.

A WEEK'S ADJOURNMENT

Simla, October 7.
It is understood that Sir Joseph Bhow, Commerce Member of the Viceroy's Council, will propose at the next meeting of the conference adjournment of the conference at Simla during the week beginning October 12th and to reopen it in Delhi on October 23rd.

To-day's official meeting was postponed till Monday owing to inconclusive conversations between the Japanese and Indian industrialists.

Conversation between the Japanese and Lancashire industrialists to-day, on the other hand, resulted in closer understanding of each other's viewpoint.

It is understood that most time was taken by Mr. Keizo Kurata, Japan's delegate, to explain the Japanese viewpoint, how the cost of production are rising in Japan and that though the wages are comparatively low the Japanese mills spent large sums providing amenities for labour.

The Lancashire delegates confined their attention to challenging certain points raised by the Japanese. The conversations will be resumed on Tuesday when the Lancashire representatives will state case.

Indian industrialists are invited to table definite proposals for consideration by the Government by Wednesday.

Such proposals will not be easy to formulate but the Indian industrialists are now holding continuous discussions and hope to put forward a unanimous plan.

Simla, October 10.
Sunday was a busy day, all members of the Japanese delegation preparing for to-morrow's meeting in conference expecting that at to-morrow's session the Indian delegation will raise the question of sundries.

The Japanese Industrial delegates to-day held a conference to determine the Japanese attitude hereafter. It is believed that India will submit a proposal for the fixing of prices and quotas for certain kinds of Japanese sundries, notably hosiery, glassware, pottery and cement.

TRADE TREATY EXTENSION

London, Oct. 7.
Official notification of the Japanese Imperial sanction of the arrangements for extension of the Anglo-Japanese trade agreement has been received in London this morning.

It will be communicated to the British Government at the earliest possible opportunity.

SWATOW NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Swatow, Oct. 15.
After an unusually warm October the weather now appears to be changing, and the delayed N.E. monsoons seem to be prevailing.

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent last Saturday in a "ball game" between the U.S.S. Tulsa and Swatow Recreation Club.

Although Swatow expected to be easily beaten they managed to make quite a good showing and the result for the nine innings game was, Tulsa 19 Swatow 17. Considering that half of the Swatow players did not know the game we are quite satisfied with this result.

A very good showing was made by P. W. Watkinson as first baseman and W. G. Clifford as pitcher.

If the enthusiasm shown is kept up we should be able to hold our own with the Tulsa when she next comes to Swatow.

The U.S.S. Tulsa leaves on Wednesday for Manila after a two weeks stay here.

The shooting season has opened, but the would be Nimrods have not had much luck as yet owing to the warm weather. There appear to be a lot more devotees this year and it looks bad for the ducks, geese etc. when they do arrive.

TEAHOUSE KITCHEN ON FIRE

Panic in Spring Garden Lane

A fire in the kitchen of a teahouse in Spring Garden Lane yesterday morning caused considerable panic in the locality, which is one of the most crowded in Wanchai.

The inmates of adjoining houses lost no time in rushing into the streets, carrying their belongings with them.

Happily the fire was confined entirely to the kitchen of the teahouse and did very little damage. An early call put through to the Fire Brigade brought several appliances to the scene, from Wanchai as well as from city and it only required a few minutes for the firemen to put the outbreak under control, when the people who have abandoned their homes in such a haste laboured upstairs again with their precious belongings on their shoulders.

TRAGEDY OF IDIOCY

Father Poisons Feeble-Minded Children

Tokyo.—After giving three feeble minded children poisoned cakes, their father Shochi Iwamoto (48) of Yanagi Hommachi, Nara Prefecture, attempted suicide. He was found lying unconscious on the railway line near Shimotsu, Wakayama Prefecture, past eight o'clock.

While his other three children are of ordinary mentality the three he intended to kill were born idiots. Later it was found that seven members of his family, including his wife, had all been poisoned through eating the cakes intended for the three idiot children. Two children are in a very critical state.

Mrs. B. M. Watson was granted a decree absolute from Mr. K. F. C. Watson in H. M. Supreme Court yesterday by Judge P. Grant Jones. The decree nisi was granted on February 28, 1933. Mr. H. D. Rodgers appeared for the petitioner.

Do you ever suffer from Headache, Cough, Cold, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout, Sore-throat, Toothache, or Asthma? If you do, will you allow us to solve the question of securing a cure, of course, a permanent one, and put an end to these dreadful enemies of humanity? Or do you like to be handicapped in society, in business or in your daily association with your strong, stout friends? For your own good, we would strongly advise you to have an open mind, and to make use of what you can call your true companion, instead of waiting for the time when you are attacked by disease, the youngest daughter of Mr. Fortune. When you are living and enjoying the gifts of nature, this unseen thief creeps into your system, and ruins you physically and mentally. Our preparation THE TIGER BALM, which has nothing to do with animal fat, or any injurious substance, will safeguard your interest. IN GAOL"ROCK OF ARSENIC" HIDDEN IN SHOE?

"I Do Not Want To Serve Imprisonment"

"I brought the arsenic from outside the prison. I took the arsenic because I do not want to serve imprisonment. Such was the dying statement made by Yum Wai, a youth of 22, who was sent to jail on an opium charge on Monday and who took a dose of arsenic in the reception room of Victoria Gaol the same morning. He passed away at about 6.30 p.m. that evening, despite all that medical aid could do for him.

The statement goes on to say that he (deceased) concealed the arsenic in his shoe, and that he had carried it about with him for the past month or so. He was working in a Chinese druggist's and it was there that he got hold of the poison.

The above were some of the facts brought to the notice of Mr. W. Schofield, when he sat with a jury comprising Messrs. G. A. Harriman (foreman), W. E. Winston, and C. L. Cate, at Central Magistracy yesterday, to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of the deceased.

STRUGGLE TO SAVE PRISONER'S LIFE

Before the inquiry opened, Mr. Schofield, addressing the jury, said that the inquiry was in connection with the death of a prisoner at the Victoria Gaol, who was convicted on a charge of possession of raw opium. He (Mr. Schofield) said he did not know whether members of the jury had read about the affair in the papers. Personally he had not, though he noticed something about it in the placards.

The first witness called was Dr. G. V. A. Griffiths, medical officer of Victoria Gaol. He said:—
"At about 11.55 a.m. yesterday, I was called to see the deceased, prisoner No. 15,959, Yum Wai. At the time he was in the reception room of the prison. I was informed that he had taken poison and I ordered him to be taken to the hospital immediately. This was done and on arrival in the hospital, I examined the deceased and decided to use an emetic in conjunction with hypodermic stimulants. This acted very thoroughly. When the first paroxysm of vomiting had subsided, I obtained a specimen of the vomitus which I sent under sealed cover to the Government Analyst.

"I continued with the treatment of the prisoner when the vomiting had subsided by giving him the approved antidote. This was thrown out but the dose was repeated. Then I had castor oil given which was also vomited but again a second dose was given and this was retained by the deceased. This was followed up by raw eggs beaten up in fresh milk and I should add that by this time the deceased was in bed.

"Following this, the patient's general condition improved greatly and he did not complain of any pain or discomfort, nor was there any outward evidence of any pain or discomfort.

"I saw him before leaving the prison at about 4 p.m. and his state was very satisfactory, apparently normal, but at 6.10 p.m. I received a telephone message that the prisoner had collapsed. I saw him at about 6.20 p.m. and then found him in a collapsed condition. I gave him hypodermic stimulants, and I also employed artificial respiration but this was to no purpose and he died at 6.30 p.m.

"I made a post mortem examination this morning and found that the stomach was congested with gritty material. The heart and lungs were healthy."

Dr. Griffiths then went on to say that he removed several organs and sent them under sealed cover, to the Government Analyst for examination, but as yet he had received no report.

Foreman of the Jury: Is it usual for a patient to collapse in a case like that?—I have been looking up authorities and there have been cases like that although I admit it was a surprise to me.

Mr. V. C. Branson, Government Analyst, said that he received a telephone call from Dr. Griffiths on the day in question to the effect that there was a case of suspected poisoning and that he would be sending along a specimen for analysis.

Witness also received a parcel containing a piece of pink rock, which he identified as native arsenic sulphide. "The specimen I examined specifically for arsenic which I found in a large quantity and I telephoned the result to Dr. Griffiths."

"At 6.30 p.m. last night, Dr. Griffiths telephoned me that the man was dead. I have done a rough quantitative test on the vomit and I found that there is at least two grains of arsenic."

Evidence of arrest and of the man being consequently charged and searched in the Central charge room was taken. In connection with the search, Inspector Brennan, who was the officer on duty at the time the deceased was charged, said that he could state definitely that at the time of the search in Police Headquarters, no such rock, such as the piece produced in Court, was on the prisoner's person.

This was substantiated by L.S.C. 74 Lui Tam-fuk who said that he personally conducted the search and made a very thorough job of it.

CHIEF WARDER'S STORY

Chief Warder Buchanan the next witness said:—

"Deceased, Yum Wai, was fined $1,000 or six months' hard labour for breach of the Opium Ordinance, and was admitted to Victoria Gaol at about 11.40 a.m. on 18th inst. At about 12 noon, I was informed that prisoner had taken some poison and on going to the prison hospital I found the deceased receiving treatment from the medical officer. Whilst there, I was handed a small piece of rock and was informed by Warder Cornwall, the reception room officer, that he found it in prisoner's right hand jacket pocket.

"I was instructed by the medical officer to forward the piece of rock to the Government Analyst. I submitted his report to the Superintendent of Prisons who had it sent immediately by messenger.

"At about 4.30 p.m. that afternoon, I instructed the Assistant Chief Warder to take the gaol interpreter to the hospital to get a statement from the deceased. I now produce the statement, your Worship."

Chief Warder Buchanan concluded by saying that the prisoner died at about 6.30 p.m. and that he identified the body, in the presence of Dr. Griffiths the following morning.

At this point, the Coroner decided to adjourn. Hearing will be resumed on the afternoon of Wednesday, October 25, at 2.30 p.m.

HEAVY SENTENCES ON BANISHEESFive Years On Former Armed Robbers

A number of cases under the Deportation Ordinance were heard at the Criminal Sessions yesterday by the Chief Justice, (Mr. J. R. Wood).

Two life banishes who were sentenced to seven years' imprisonment each in 1924 for armed robbery, were sentenced to five years' hard labour for a breach of the Deportation Order.

Pang Sau alias Pang Pat and Ho Yam-sing who were arrested together on October 10, pleaded guilty. In the Prison Judge's Court later Ho Yam-sing was sentenced to a further three years for unlawful possession of arms.

Sin Ming also admitted a breach of Deportation Order and was sentenced to a year's hard labour. Another returned deportee, Chan Sing alias Ho Hoi was given 18 months imprisonment.

SEVEN DAYS FOR MANSLAUGHTERUnusual Case From Lantau Island

NEPHEW'S FATAL ACT

A quarrel between uncle and nephew which ended in blows, causing the death of the uncle, and was followed by the appearance yesterday of the nephew before the Chief Justice (His Honour Mr. J. R. Wood) at the Criminal Sessions.

Mr. J. A. Fraser, assistant Attorney General, prosecuted and the prisoner was not legally represented.

The allegations of the witnesses for the Crown were that the prisoner and two other men came from an adjoining village to attack the uncle. They stated that the prisoner pushed his uncle into a ditch and then attacked him with a bamboo pole.

Medical evidence, however, showed that the dead man's spleen was in a very bad condition being about six times the normal size, and liable to fatal injury at any moment. Death was in part, due to a ruptured spleen.

The prisoner told the Court that he did not assault his uncle in the manner described by the Crown witnesses. On August 28, he said, he visited his uncle and in the course of an argument, his uncle slapped him, whereupon he pushed the old man who fell over the bank.

Prisoner said he had no intention whatever of injuring his relative, and as soon as he realised that his uncle appeared to be in great pain, he gave him what assistance he could.

HID IN THE HILL.
The villagers, however, took the law into their hands and belayed prisoner with bamboo poles and he therefore ran away and hid in the hillside for thirteen days, subsisting on wild fruits.

His Lordship informed the jury that even if prisoner's story was true, they would be justified in returning a verdict of guilty and, if they saw fit, add a recommendation to mercy.

The jury after retiring for ten minutes returned a verdict of guilty and added "a very strong recommendation to mercy."

His Lordship: The verdict recorded by the jury is a unanimous one of guilty. As I understand it, they accept your story. They do not convict you because they think you used a bamboo. They think the stories told by witnesses for the Crown, rather exaggerated. However, what you have confessed is serious enough and what you did resulted in the death of your uncle.

"The responsibility of his death lies with you. The sentence I pass on you is a light one because the jury have recommended you to the mercy of the Court. It is also because you did not foresee the consequence of your act, but a fitting sentence must be passed on you now that you are convicted. The sentence of the Court is that you be imprisoned with hard labour for seven days."

CAPT. E. WALLACE
IN HONG KONGAn Extension Of Routine DutiesTO INSPECT NAVAL ESTABLISHMENTS
IN THE EAST

Capt. D. Euan Wallace, M.C., M.P., the Civil Lord of the Admiralty, arrived in the Colony yesterday by the s.s. Comorin and is staying here till Saturday, when he leaves at noon by the s.s. Mantua.

Interviewed by our representative Capt. Wallace said that his post at the Admiralty carried responsibility for Admiralty works and buildings and all questions regarding civilian labour employed by the Board. Like every other Civil Lord, as soon as possible after he was appointed, he had made a tour of the naval establishments at Home to get first hand knowledge of his work. This visit out East was merely an extension of that principle. It was entirely to assist him in the conduct of routine business. Two things had made it possible, the fact that Parliament was meeting later than usual this year, namely, in the middle of November, and the operation of Air Services.

"The idea was entirely my own," said Capt. Wallace, "and I had to obtain the First Lord's permission, which was very readily given."

The journey had been made by Imperial Airways, right through to Rangoon. Altogether it had taken twelve days to Singapore instead of the ten that had been hoped, owing to a mishap to the aeroplane at Calcutta. "My Secretary and I," said Capt. Wallace, were the first through passengers by this route to Rangoon. From Rangoon a couple of flying boats had been

GASOLINE WAR
IN JAPANA Drive Against Socony and Rising Sun

Tokyo, Oct. 10.

Little headway has so far been made in the suggested compromise between Mr. Matsukata and the big Six in the gasoline war. The "Asahi" says that the whole matter rests with the attitude of the two foreign suppliers, the Rising Sun Petroleum Company and the Socony-Vacuum Oil Corporation.

The Department of Commerce and Industry at present has no intention of positively mediating in the present dispute. Although the market quotation throughout the country is in a very unstable condition, therefore, the Stable Industry Control Law will not be invoked. The authorities are evidently awaiting the growth of view between the contending parties in favour of a compromise.

FOREIGN FIRMS BLAMED.
On Saturday (7th), Mr. Tsushita, of the Nippon Sekiyu Kaisha, interviewed Mr. Matsukata and discussed the whole situation. Mr. Matsukata at this Conference pointed out the strong competition from the foreign suppliers and the lack of unity of the Conference itself. Unless the two foreign concerns come to stop their competition, he declared, the matter will not see a settlement no matter how many times they may meet. As far as Mr. Matsukata himself is concerned, if the six concerns propose a reasonable plan, he is ready to co-operate with them.

There was thus no tangible development from the interview between Mr. Tsushita and Mr. Matsukata. From the foregoing statement of Mr. Matsukata the Osaka paper says, the future attitude of the two foreign suppliers will determine the whole question.

placed at their disposal and had taken them to Singapore.

Two days had been spent at Singapore, visiting the new Base and other naval works. Progress with the Base was most satisfactory, and there was no reason to suppose that the Jackson contract would not be completed well up to time. The work was a bigger proposition than people realised; extensive anti-malarial precautions had had to be taken on the marshing site, and among other things the course of a small river had had to be diverted. Capt. Wallace added that he hoped to spend another three days at Singapore on the way Home; then he was going by boat to Ceylon, and after a visit of inspection there, he was to fly home by Imperial Airways.

R.N.V.R. Unit Warmly Approved.
Capt. Wallace said the Admiralty were very pleased indeed at the response given to Commodore Elliot's move to start a Volunteer Reserve Unit in Hong Kong, and every reasonable support could be expected from Home. When, on arriving, he fully realised for the first time what a great shipping centre had grown up in this small island, he was doubly impressed with the need for such a unit. In times of stress a place like this might have to do a good bit to help itself and to look after its own defences. Sailors were not made in ten minutes, and such work as minesweeping was arduous and difficult. No matter how willing people might be they needed training for duties of that kind. Sweep- ing channels clear of mines would be a matter of vital necessity to a port that depended upon shipping for its food supplies.

Asked if the Admiralty would supply mine-sweepers, Commodore Elliot explained, to the visitor, with a smile, that in 1925 the Admiralty offered two, but Hong Kong declined the liability!

Trafalgar Day.
In conclusion, Capt. Wallace said that he was delighted to hear of the arrangements for Trafalgar Day, and wished them every success. His regret was that he would not be able to see them through, though he hoped to be present with H.E. the Governor and Commodore Elliot at the Cenotaph Ceremony. Unfortunately the Mantua left at noon and if he missed the ship all the arrangements for the Home journey would be hopelessly upset.

WHEN GERMANY RE-ARMS

After staving off the issue for a good many years the Entente Powers have now to make up their minds whether they will allow Germany to re-arm, and enter the main cage of the menagerie with full equipment of teeth and claws. After the conclusion of Peace nineteen years ago, all but a few days, it was hoped that the Powers would steadily reduce armaments, until they had no more than glorified police forces. That was to be accomplished during the "Probationary Period" of the Central Powers, and by the time this was up, all the civilised nations would have learnt to trust each other, and probably some form of international force would be evolved to keep small, backward and unruly peoples in their proper places. This was the reasonable course to take, the course that the mass of war-weary and war disillusioned people wanted. But things were not as easy as they looked. The French declared that the Germans were still secretly armed; and they had, in any case, a big war to wage in North Africa. The Balkans continued turbulent as ever, and Turkey, strangely renaissance, turned and crumpled the invading Greeks and defied the world at Chanak. America hastily withdrew from the League of Nations; declared that Britain had scrapped her worn-out Grand Fleet only to rebuild a new one, and America was going to be second to none on the seas, or anywhere else; Fascist Italy marshalled her legions. Trotsky re-created the Russian Army, Japan isolated on her naval quota; all the leading powers, except Germany, created immense aerial armaments. Germany's right to re-arm, up to the strength of her neighbours was finally admitted about the time of the Nazi triumph, and the present Disarmament Conference has been a desperate effort to fix the respective forces of the Great Powers. The inevitable dilemma has sunk the ship. What one Power considers her irreducible minimum, possible antagonists declare to be dangerous superiority to themselves. The fallacies of security by armaments are that only immense predominance gives safety; for the history of war mainly tells of the victory of the apparently weaker side, and, also—the best form of defence is swift and sudden attack. Thus the military laws of safety, create a political uncertainty making life impossible. Each nation, moreover, claims, "let us have the power and we won't abuse it, we only want to keep what we've got and maintain our rights."

The Disarmament theory has failed, and the policy of keeping Germany's claws clipped has failed. Unless the Powers are prepared to embark on a precautionary war against Germany, to smash her armament factories—which means all her factories—and place the nation in chains, we have got to face a Europe armed once more. The prospect is worse than the reality. Italy, France and Britain are not really afraid of each other, and there is every possibility that Germany will be able to join the party without upsetting it. Germany shows no signs of desiring Alsace-Lorraine, while France has no childish desire for "the Rhine Frontier." No one expects deep friendship between the two peoples, but at least they should be able to live and let live.

After much growling, and snarling and a little give-and-take Germany will re-arm. Perhaps by the time she has done it the folly of European competition in armaments will be realised; perhaps after she has got what she wants Germany will return to the League of Nations, and Japan will do the same! What comedy indeed! To leave the League in order to contravene everything it stands for, and then to ask for re-admission! Family life generally runs on those lines. It is seldom that any person, and his children, remain per-

CANTON RICE TAX

Makes No Difference To Demand

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, October 18. Notwithstanding the tax of $1 "big money" on each picul of foreign rice, large ships of this cereal arrived here to-day, by steamers from Hong Kong. The demand for rice from Siam and Indo-China is due to the shortage in local markets, as rice prices are now slightly higher than before the introduction of the tax. Consignments are handled by rice merchants in Hong Kong, but payment of the tax is taken care of here by the consignees.

A rice merchant stated that the tax will not cut out foreign rice entirely, while the volume of imports will be less than before. Despite reports of rice coming in from Kwangsi and Wuhu (in Anhwei), their products are not much in evidence among the local rice shops. So far only the local Agricultural Products Tax Bureau has been formed and is collecting tax on all arrivals from September 16. Similar bureaux are to be established in Swatow, Kowloon, Sze Yap districts, and Hailow (in Hainan Island), but in the meantime the tax on rice in those places is being collected by the respective Superintendents of Customs, who are appointees of the South-west Political Council.

CAPTIVES SET FREE

Chinese Marines Search Bias Bay

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, October 18. Chinese Press reports state that several Chinese captives held by pirates in Bias Bay were set free by marines and troops who made a clean sweep of that locality last week. The hostages were passengers of the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Co. steamer Yu Shun which was pirated some time ago shortly after she had left Swatow for Shanghai.

No details were given by these Press dispatches, although they seem to indicate that the five or six remaining passengers had regained their freedom from the sea rovers. It will be recalled that a month ago some marines at Swatow raided a pirates' den and rescued three prisoners who were passengers of the Yu Shun.

"COMRADE" LIU FANG AN CAPTURED

Canton, October 18. "Comrade" Liu Fang An, Chairman of the Communist regime in eastern Kwangsi was captured near Anyuan by the troops of the 44th Kwangsi division. Other captives included a woman Communist named Liu Nai Sze; apparently the wife of "Chairman" Liu.

The scene of the recent battle was in Shang Nim Sha north-east Anyuan. About 200 Communists were killed in a battle, and in the confusion Liu Fang An was captured. He was the "big boss" of Eastern Kwangsi and directed political activity there—Central Press.

manently outside the circle, however badly he behaves. Life has got to go on. Abstract justice, is a pretty idea for clever men to play with, but not worth fighting for, and keeping up a grudge, after the row is over, is an impossible course of conduct.

CANTON-SHAI AIR MAIL

To Start on October 25th

Canton, October 18. Regular air mail between Canton and Shanghai will be inaugurated on October 25. The airplane will stop at Swatow and other ports of call. The aerial postage is 50 cents for each letter to Shanghai in addition to the usual five cents for ordinary stamp. Aerial postage to Swatow is 25 cents plus five cents of the ordinary rate. The service will be maintained by the China National Aviation Corporation, which will later on inaugurate passengers service. The fare from Canton to Shanghai will be $270, while the rate from Hong Kong to Shanghai is $250. At a start, a plane will leave for Shanghai every other day, but if the business improves, the flying will be undertaken daily—Central Press.

DREW PENSION FOR 93 YEARS

Woman's Record

Miss Frances Caroline Baker, who died recently at St. Leonards when nearly 101 years of age, had been drawing a pension from the Indian Government and its predecessors, the East India Company, for more than ninety-three years.

The pension was granted to her in November, 1839, when her father, Capt. William Way Baker, of the Madras Staff Corps, died while on service with his regiment. It was the rule to grant pensions to the female children of officers who died on service, and for the pensions to be continued until the recipients married.

For the greater part of her life Miss Baker lived in India.

China waters have become rare during the past three months.

To strengthen the naval force, the First Group Army will soon put the new gunboat Ho Chow into commission. Built in a Hong Kong shipyard, the new warcraft will be added to the Whampoa Cruiser Squadron instead of the River Patrol, since the Whampoa Squadron is manned by properly qualified naval men.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Two cases of typhoid and one of puerperal fever were reported on Tuesday.

The Raub Australian Gold Mining Company, Limited, advise us that the output for the four weeks ended 10th October, 1933 amounted to 2,058.35 ounces.

Summoned for allowing their dogs to be out without muzzles, Mr. Nosworthy, 28, The Peak, Mr. E. O. Hudson, 404, The Peak and Mr. Macfadyen, 4, Lyttleton Road were each fined $5 by Mr. Balfour in the Central Police Court yesterday.

Exhibition dances are to be given daily by Andrew and Ursula, two talented dancers, at the Roof Garden of the Hongkong Hotel, during the tea dances daily beginning today, from 6.30 to 7 p.m. These artists are offering free ballroom dancing instruction and corrective hints.

Canton, October 18.—Wireless telephone service between Canton and Swatow will be available on and after October 20. There are three rates. Usual call of three minutes is $3, special service $3.90, extra urgent service $6.00. If the talking exceeds three minutes, proportional rate will be charged, i.e. one dollar a minute etc.—Central Press.

GERMANY AND THE AIR

Increased Attention Being Paid To Aviation

TRAINING IN DEFENCE

Berlin, September 8. The new Germany, with a population too large for her territory under present economic conditions and unable to increase her elbow room terrestrially, turns increased attention to the air which is still fairly free for all as a sphere for conquest and defence. Never has any government more pestered itself to make its citizens air-minded than has the Hitler regime. There is ceaseless propaganda in the newspapers, over the radio and at public meetings for including popular interest in flying for the twofold purpose of bettering German performance in aviation and of developing a national system of defence against air attacks.

AIR SPORT PUSHED

The Nazi regime, which for all its Teutonising gospel, has an amazingly French gift for stagecraft, far beyond anything ever before shown by any other German party, has just opened the "Golden Book of German Air Sport." The first to inscribe his name in it was President von Hindenburg, who wrote: "Whoever aids German aviation aids Germany." Next followed Chancellor Hitler, who merely signed his name. Then Air Minister Hermann Wilhelm Goering wrote, quite in the spirit of von Richthofen and Boelcke, "Forward, march!"

Each of the sixteen regional districts comprising the "co-ordinated" flying clubs of Germany has its own "golden book." To have one's name inscribed in it is held out as a reward to all and sundry who will promote German aviation. "The honour of finding one's self in the company of the highest and best of our nation," the official announcement astutely declares, "Germany has long held a place in the first rank of commercial aviation and sports flying. Her Zeppelin service is not duplicated. But the dynamics of Hitlerism applies a new driving force. Individual efforts are to be 'consolidated' under the angle of united patriotic service, from which increased performance is expected. As former Captain Loerzer, head of the united aviation organisations, puts it: 'Our aviation-concerns a new phase. Its essential note is the consciousness that its nurture, services primarily our fatherland's renaissance.' A new air sports drive is about to be launched. Its practical object is to train as many competent pilots as possible."

PEOPLE TRAINED IN DEFENCE

On the side of air defence, "popular enlightenment and propaganda" is equally thrashed. The Union for Defence Against Air Attacks, organised by General Goring last April and headed by a General and Major of the old army, assisted by other departments, keeps up a campaign with the object of teaching the entire population of Germany appropriate measures of protection in case of air raids.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

A verdict of "Not Guilty" was returned by the jury in the case of Ng Sze, a widow, of Reclamation Road, Mongkok, who was charged before Mr. Justice Lindel at the Criminal Sessions yesterday. It was alleged that the woman was instrumental in giving entry to robbers at 174 Wanchai Road.

There will be a General Meeting of the Hong Kong University Engineering Society on Friday, 20th October, 1933 at 8.30 p.m. in Room "K," when Professor W. Brown, B.Sc., M.A. etc. will deliver a lecture on "Similar Structures and Similar Machines." The lecture will be illustrated with lantern slides. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

The Very Reverend Dean Alfred Swann was among the many passengers, who returned to the Colony yesterday by the s.s. Comorin, looking extremely fit after his leave. He said that he had spent part of the time in Kenya Colony and part in England, where they had had a really wonderful summer. At home, said the Dean, unemployment was still extremely serious among all classes, but, on the whole, people were fairly cheerful about the situation. Mrs. Swann and the children are returning to the Colony in February.

KOREAN STILL IN CUSTODY

Further Request For His Release

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, October 18. Poh Yi Yi, the Chinese naturalised Korean, is still in the custody of the French Consul authorities in Shanghai, and Monsieur M. F. Bonnafous, the French Consul General in Canton, is awaiting instructions from Monsieur H. W. M. Wilden, French Minister to China, as to what should be done to the prisoner.

Major Li Chi Wen made representations to M. Bonnafous for the release of Poh who was turned over to his care by the Japanese Consul General, Mr. Shigeru Kawagoe, because his consulate is in the French Concession. He was asked why Poh Yi Yi was illegally taken to the Consulate and was further requested to deliver the prisoner to Chinese authorities.

It was learned to-day that Poh belongs to a group of Koreans, who have been living in Canton to arouse Chinese sympathy for the cause. Yeung Min Tak is the "master mind" of this group and is said to have left his home in Fook Yam Chuen, Tungshan. It was authoritatively learned that they are not connected with Communist activities.

These go far beyond gas masks and similar devices. It is, indeed, pointed out that these could not be furnished for sixty-odd million people by the government. Nor could the government provide protective clothing for such numbers, say against mustard gas.

What the German citizens, then, must be taught, and such is the programme—is, first, to reduce as much as possible exposure to air attack; second, to establish bomb-proof shelters, and third, to organise a defence service which, in case of need, would become automatically operative.

Thus it is advocated that apartment houses abandon the customary storage attics where inflammable materials are accumulated, that each provide its own bomb-proof and gas-proof shelter, and that in each there be appointed an "air warden" in command of all air defence measures and authorised to commandeer the tenants for service.

Hankow, Oct. 8.—Captains Chen Wen-ih and Pan Ting-hsi of the Naval Ministry, who arrived here on their airplane "Kiang Chiao" during the week-end, called on General Chang Chun-Kuo, Min News Agency.

LABOUR GAINS IN NORWAY

Fascists Receive A Rebuff

Oslo, Oct. 18.
A DECIDED swing to Labour was a feature of the Norwegian elections held yesterday.
The Labour Party have so far gained 22 seats, doubtless owing to Labour's extensive programme of unemployment relief.
The Conservatives, who have lost 10 seats, proposed to lighten taxation and have refused an alliance with the new Fascist organisation, the National Union, headed by Major Quisling, an ex-Cabinet minister, who is regarded as Norway's "Strong Man."
The present position in the election is:—
Labour, 69 seats
Conservatives, 31 seats
Liberals, 24 seats
Agrarians, 22 seats
Other Parties, 4 seats

IMPROVEMENT ON TYNESIDE

More Coal Exported

London, Oct. 17.
CONDITIONS on the Tyne, where the unemployment situation was most acute, are continuing to show improvement.
Up to date 70,000 tons more coal have been shipped from that area than in the corresponding period of last year, while the number of ships laid up there is 54 fewer than a year ago.—British Wireless Service.

HELEN WILLS MOODY

Recovering Slowly From Accident

San Francisco, Oct. 18.
In spite of the pessimistic statement made by her father less than a fortnight ago Helen Wills Moody, the world's greatest lady lawn player, has announced that she will return to competitive tennis next year.
Since her breakdown she has been in a nursing home in this city.
Mrs. Moody in a statement to Reuter said, "I will play tennis again and I will play in tournaments which I will try to win. It is good to be able to walk again, even if I can only go a few blocks at a time. The farthest I have gone so far is six blocks."
"I suppose it will be a long time before I get back into championship form, but I am going to play next year."
"First I shall take up swimming as it is the only exercise I can have now, because it keeps me off my feet I got so tired standing."
Mrs. Moody said that she had not received offers to turn professional, but had rejected a movie offer "because I am content to live as I do now."—Reuter.

"WE ARE DEAF TO NO WORD; BLIND TO NO ACT"

DALADIER CRITICISES GERMANY'S ACTION

SENATE AGREES TO DEBATE ON FINANCIAL PROPOSALS

Paris, October 18.
We are deaf to no word, but we are blind to no act, declared M. Daladier in the Chamber in a brief reference to Germany's withdrawal from the Disarmament Conference. If Germany desired an understanding why did she begin with a rupture instead of accepting a sincere plan for progressive reduction in armaments?
The new situation concerns not only France and Germany but the whole community of peoples. France would remain true to a policy of collaboration, he concluded.
The Chamber by 470 votes to 120 agreed to an emergency debate on financial proposals.—Reuter.

BRITAIN STANDS BY DECLARATION

London, Oct. 18.
Britain still stands by the declaration of last December that Germany ought to receive equality of rights in regime and security, declared the Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon in a broadcast address last night. A serious fact had however, emerged, which, while not altering Britain's pledge, must necessarily affect the detailed manner of its fulfilment.
Recent events had increased the nervousness to a sense of positive alarm, which was the real reason why the heavily-armed States hesitate to weaken their armed forces, he said.

"We know the reasons for that anxiety," emphasised Sir John Simon. "There is more anxiety in England about the international situation than for many years past, while on the Continent it is more acute still."
Sir John Simon detailed the steps taken at Geneva to meet Germany's demands, and said that they were getting a closer approach to a basis of agreement last week, when he asked Germany exactly what she meant by "sample" weapons. But instead of defining "samples," Germany's reply claimed substantial re-armament from the very beginning.

He rebutted the accusation made by the German Foreign Minister, Baron von Neurath, mis-stating the facts. He was perfectly ready to publish the documents and records.
Germany's attitude at the last moment had jeopardised, if not wrecked, the hard work they had all put into the conversations with goodwill.
He was totally unable to accept the reasons Germany gave for withdrawal.

Sir John Simon reiterated Mr. Stanley Baldwin's dictum that the nation that made Disarmament impossible would not have a friend in the world.
Sir John stated: "I should indeed be sorry if there were any difference on a matter of fact with Baron von Neurath. My fellow countrymen may rest assured that the suggested inaccuracy is not on my side."
It was on October 6 that the German Charge d'Affaires in London communicated to Sir John Simon the "Observations" on the Disarmament situation. A similar communication was made at the same time in Rome, but not to the French or United States Governments whose representatives had taken part in the earlier conversations.
These "Observations" seriously affected the situation and, immediately after hearing them, the British Foreign Secretary communicated them to the French and Italian Ambassadors in London.
Shortly after reaching London the Foreign Secretary had a long conversation with the Prime Minister, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, and Mr. Baldwin. Sir John Simon last night broadcast a statement upon the recent developments in the disarmament situation.—British Wireless Service.

GERMANY'S VIEWS MISREPRESENTED

London, Oct. 18.
Sir John Simon and Captain Anthony Eden reached London by air from Paris yesterday on their return from Geneva.
When he reached the Foreign Office Sir John Simon's attention was called to the report of a statement made the previous night by Baron von Neurath, suggesting that the British Foreign Secretary had not accurately represented Germany's view point, as conveyed to him on October 6.
Sir John stated: "I should indeed be sorry if there were any difference on a matter of fact with Baron von Neurath. My fellow countrymen may rest assured that the suggested inaccuracy is not on my side."

which is warmly welcomed by Germany.

Herr Hitler's intentions have favourably impressed the American Ambassador, Mr. Dodd, who had a fifty-minute interview with the Chancellor yesterday.

At the conclusion of the interview, Mr. Dodd said the Chancellor was honestly perturbed over the Nazi assaults on foreigners and was determined to end them. Hitler also emphasised his desire for peace and his aversion to war, and seemed anxious to resume or continue Germany's contact with the rest of the world.

A semi-official statement emphasises that Germany's intentions are to observe the provisions of the Versailles Peace Treaty and the League Covenant.

At the same time a denial was issued of the report that Germany had sent a Note to Mussolini, suggesting the reopening of the disarmament negotiations.—Reuter.

BANKERS' HIGH SALARIES

Fabulous Figures in America

Washington, October 18.
Large payments made to Mr. Albert Wiggin, Chairman of the Chase National Bank have been revealed by the Senate Banking Investigation Committee, which is dealing with the Chase Bank and the Chinese Securities Corporation.
It was stated that Mr. Wiggin received bonuses exceeding U.S.$100,000 annually besides a salary of U.S.$200,000 and a pension of U.S.$100,000 after retirement, despite the Bank's severe losses in recent years.

During the past years Mr. Wiggin has been a director of 59 other big concerns, drawing annual payments ranging from U.S.$300 to U.S.$30,000.—Reuter.

$100,000,000 Owed by Germany.
Mr. Wiggin testified that Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Junior, was the biggest shareholder in the Chase Bank.

He said that the German debt to all American banks in 1933, totalled between U.S.$400,000,000 and U.S.$500,000,000. The Chase Bank's share of that amount was originally U.S.$100,000,000, but Mr. Wiggin got the amount down to below U.S.$40,000,000.

He acknowledged that the Chase Bank had made "very large losses" and accepted the responsibility for them as "Commander-in-Chief."—Reuter.

ALLEGED O.G.P.U. SPIES

Arrested by Manchukuo

Harbin, October 18.
The arrival of the Manchukuo gunboat, Linmin, with three alleged O.G.P.U. spies on board, of whom one was a Soviet soldier in uniform, has been greeted by a fresh exchange of protests between the Russian and Manchukuo diplomatic representatives here.
The Soviet Consul-General, M. Slavutsky, contends that the men were arrested in Soviet territory and demands their release.

Manchukuo insists they were arrested in Manchukuo territory in the vicinity of Taiheio, and protests against the infringements of Manchukuo's sovereign rights in the frontier zones, of which the latest incident affords further conclusive proof.—Reuter.

BRITISH WOMAN SENTENCED TO DEATH

SEQUEL TO SHANGHAI STABBING CASE

JURY'S STRONG RECOMMENDATION FOR MERCY

Shanghai, October 18.
The trial of Mrs. Hadley which began yesterday and was continued at this morning's session was most dramatic. Mrs. Hadley presenting a pathetic spectacle, frequently sobbing bitterly.

Her Counsel elicited that when she met Youngs she was the occupant of a house of ill fame from where he took her as his mistress.

Mrs. Hadley testified that she had frequently tried to break away in order to endeavour to lead a good life but Youngs always hunted for her and brought her back to the old terrible life with a "wolf," culminating on the night of the tragedy when she drank nearly a quart of Vodka and lost consciousness, only awaking at the police station to hear of the death of Youngs.

The jury after seventy-two minutes absence brought in a verdict of guilty with a strong recommendation for mercy.

Judge Grant Jones passed the death sentence. The accused received the verdict without emotion.

The Judge in summing up pointed out that the defence plea of provocation and intoxication were insufficient to reduce the crime of murder to manslaughter.

The sentence must be confirmed by Sir Miles Lampson. Up to date no woman has been executed in China by order of a British Court.

STORY OF TRAGEDY

A message from Shanghai dated Aug. 17 stated:—
A drama enacted in a house in the Yangtszepoo District last night, terminating in tragedy, is engaging the attention of the police and is likely to be described shortly before a Magistrate.

Found in an unconscious condition in his house, Captain Youngs, who is variously described as a Briton and as a Swede, died as the result of wounds received while on his way to hospital.

Captain Youngs was found to be suffering from severe knife wounds in the neck and he had suffered a considerable loss of blood before the police arrived at the scene of tragedy.

As a result of the affair, a foreign woman, believed to be a Russian, has been detained.

She was found lying on a bed in an adjoining room in a distraught frame of mind.

There were evidences of a desperate struggle when the police party arrived. Captain Youngs was lying in a pool of his own blood with two knife wounds.—Reuter.

VICTIM IDENTIFIED

The body of the victim has now been identified as that of Captain Walter Clifford Youngs, an ex-mariner and rolling stone. Captain Youngs was born in London on October 18, 1879. He was of gypsy blood, his father being a native of Portsmouth.

The woman detained by the police, who believe her to be British by marriage, has not yet sufficiently recovered from the shock of the affair to undergo examination.

The British Consulate has taken over jurisdiction of the case.—Reuter.

YESTERDAY'S TRAINING GALLOPS

Jungle Jim Shows Improved Form:
Charming Star Moves Well

(By "MORNING DEW.")

The training gallops at the course were quite interesting yesterday and readers will note that Jungle Jim did the best last quarter of the morning.

Charming Star, who will be starting in the first race on Saturday, was sent out over a slow mile. He moved very well indeed and should find many supporters on Saturday. It will be recalled that this pony ran well at the Annual Meeting, when he was far from fit.

The times taken yesterday were as follows:—

MAN WHO FOUND A CHEQUE

Dishonesty Earns Him Six Weeks

A Chinese who presented a cheque for $500, which he had picked up on Jervois Street, for payment at the Hongkong Bank was charged before Mr. Balfour yesterday with larceny.

Complainant was Lau Chi-chung, manager of the Po Wing Cheung Import and Export firm, 101 Des Voeux Road West.

Defendant admitted picking up the cheque, but pleaded that as he did not know where the firm was he took it to the bank.

Detective-sergeant McRobbie said that complainant sent his foki to cash the cheque. On the way to the bank he lost it and immediately returned to the shop and reported the matter. The manager went to the bank to stop payment, and while there the defendant entered, presented the cheque and asked for cash. He was questioned and handed over to the Police.

Sergeant McRobbie—the complainant did not wish to charge the man, but there have been too many cases where complainants do not want to charge the defendants, as the property has been recovered. The Police are pushing this case, and we ask your Worship to take a serious view.

Sentence of six weeks' hard labour was passed.

TRADE MARKS CASE

Shop Ordered To Pay Costs

Costs amounting to $100, together with an order for the confiscation of the soap concerned was awarded against the manager of the Shun Fat Cheung shop, No. 448, Hennessy Road, who was summoned before Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday for having had for sale soap to which a trade mark the property of the China Soap Company was applied.

Mr. J. B. Prentiss appeared for Chung Nam tong of the China Soap Company.

A representative of the defendant firm said that she bought the soap from a man who had brought it round to the shop. She did not make any inquiries about the soap, and she knew nothing about the infringement.

Mr. Prentiss said they had failed

NOVEL BEAUTY COMPETITION

Sincere's Awards For Lovely Lips

The Lip Impression Competition, a new and novel form of beauty contest which has been held at the Sincere Co. during the past week, drew to a close yesterday when the entries were finally sealed. This competition which has occasioned quite a lot of comment was originally staged by the Fox Film Co. on behalf of Richard Hudnut to popularize "Marvelous" products in Shanghai and was run in conjunction with the screening of "My Lips Betray" starring Lillian Harvey. The competition was to decide whose lips most resembled those of the famous star.

At first it was doubtful whether a competition of this nature would prove popular in Hong Kong but Sincere Co. decided to co-operate and at least give it a trial. The reception which the competition received and the number of ladies who were willing to make-up lips and take an impression even on the first day dispelled any doubts which might previously have been entertained.

Col. Murrow, managing director of Hong Kong "Daily Press," Mr. Wong Man Tat, manager of Muller Philipps, the local agents for "Marvelous" beauty aids, and Mr. Ma Man'ling, a director of Sincere Co. and chief cashier of Sincere Banking and Trust Co. Ltd., kindly consented to act as judges. It was a difficult task to judge the contest but after considerable thought and careful comparison an unanimous choice was arrived at and prizes will be awarded to the following:

1st prize Foreigners Miss B. Allen, 194 Prince Edward Road, Kowloon.
2nd prize Foreigners Miss C. Gill, 11 Humphreys Ave., Kowloon.
1st prize Chinese Miss Lam Luen Mee, 787 Nathan Road, Kowloon.
2nd prize Chinese Miss Lee Tak Hing, 24 King Kwong Street, Hong Kong.

to find out the agents for the soap. If the defendant could furnish the name of the person from whom she had bought the soap or other particulars it would serve their purpose.

Mr. Schofield added that it seemed to be a plea of guilty with extenuating circumstances.

Defendant said she had not paid the money for the soap.

The defendant was convicted and cautioned.

BOWLS FINAL

Spey Royal to be Decided

The final of the Spey Royal competition will be played on Saturday at the Civil Service ground commencing at 2.45 p.m. The finalists are the Craigenower C.C. and the Kowloon Docks R.C.

The teams are as follows:—Craigenower.—G. L. Buchanan, B. W. Bradbury, H. Beer, U. M. Omar (skip).
Kowloon Docks.—J. V. Ramsey, W. Greig, J. C. Brown, R. Lapaley (skip).

It will be noted that seven of the above players were selected in the recent interport games against Shanghai.

AITKENHEAD SHIELD.
The Aitkenhead Lawn Bowls Shield will be played on October 28, on the greens of the Craigenower, the Police and the Civil Service clubs at Happy Valley.

The Taikeo R.C., the Craigenower C.C., the Police R.C. and the Civil Service C.C. are each to provide eight players, the Hong Kong Electric and the Yacht Club six each, and the Indian R.C. four, while each of the four Kowloon Clubs is to submit the names of twelve players.

After each club has submitted names to the Hon. Secretary of the I.B.A. a sub-committee will select the various rinks. Messrs. J. Russell, U. M. Omar, A. W. Grimmit and L. de Roma were appointed the selection committee for Hong Kong, and Messrs. H. Hampton, R. P. Phillips, B. Wylie, and J. Kempton for Kowloon.

The prizes won in the Association's tournaments during the past year will be presented at the Police R.C. after the match, by Mrs. J. Russell.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE

Chinese Partner Before Magistrate

A partner of the Hop Sang Loong firm, No. 134, Gloucester Road, was charged before Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday with embezzling $571.54 the property of the firm on various dates between May 22 and October 2.

Mr. H. L. Denny, was for the complainant firm, and asked for one week's remand, which was granted.

MOTOR ECONOMY COMPETITION

Mr. W. Harper's Thank To Competitors

Mr. Wallace Harper, Managing Director of Wallace Harper & Co. Ltd., writes to thank each owner in last Saturday's Economy Competition for his co-operation in competing and thereby contributing to the success of the enterprise.

Mr. Harper adds:—The spirit of enthusiasm with which contestants entered into the trial, and the favourable comments which the writer was very pleased to hear from all sides, encourage us to consider other ventures of a similar nature from time to time in the future, and we trust we shall receive the same whole-hearted support as we enjoyed in connection with Saturday's trial.

In closing, we would like to bring to the notice of owners who were unable to be present and did not, therefore, hear the writer's remarks at the presentation of prizes, that we are deeply indebted to the Hong Kong Automobile Association for their prompt and willing support and assistance without which the trial would not have been nearly so efficiently run, and also our deep appreciation of the generosity and co-operation of the Asiatic Petroleum Co., Sincere Co., Dunlop Rubber Co., Melchers & Co. (Continental Tyres) and Carlowitz & Co. (Goodrich Tyres), who contributed the funds with which we were able to provide the prizes which were presented to the winners. The support which we received from all sides is indeed gratifying.

Very truly yours,
WALLACE HARPER & Co., Ltd.

LADIES' BASKETBALL

The Ladies' Open Basketball League which was held very successfully last year and won by the Mui Fong Girls' School A Team who duly had its name engraved on the Ho Yu Shield, will commence again in the early part of November. All teams last year displayed noticeable improvement during the latter part of the season and a grand scramble for the championship is expected this year.

The teams which participated last year were the Mui Fong A and B teams, Club De Recreio, St. Paul's

The accused was allowed bail in $750, and Mr. Schofield informed him that if he could find part of the money it would if he were convicted go towards lessening his sentence.

Girls College, South China Athletic Association, and Chang Nan Athletic Association.
Entries are now open and must be sent to the Physical Department, Chinese Y.M.C.A. before October 28th. Entrance fee is $12.00.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

TWO YEARS' HARD LABOUR

For Stealing 4-Year-Old Boy

At the request of the S.C.A., who considered that the maximum of a year's hard labour which one Magistrate could give, would not meet the case, Mr. Wynne-Jones and Mr. Balfour jointly sat at Kowloon Magistracy yesterday to hear the charge against Tang Shin, a widow, of kidnapping a 4-year old child from his mother's house.

Outlining the case Sub-Inspector Elston, attached to the S.C.A., said the child lived in Sheung Sha Pul Village with her mother and the defendant was also a gardener there. On October 11 defendant went to complainant's house to look for work. She left the house about 4 p.m. and after she had gone it was found that the little boy was also missing. At first suspicion did not attach to defendant, but, subsequent to a report to the police, the villagers held a meeting and decided to watch defendant. On October 14 she returned to the village to visit another neighbour and was arrested. She admitted taking the boy from his mother's house and keeping him in hers while she found a purchaser. The boy was eventually sold to a widow in Yuen Long Village who had no children of her own, for $150, $30 of which defendant had already received.

She gave as her excuse that her husband had died and the man who kept her was ill in hospital, and she wanted money to pay the hospital bills. Against that, however was proof that she had found a purchaser before she took the child.

Defendant pleaded guilty.

Mr. Wynne-Jones: You told the Inspector your man was in hospital, why is it when the police made enquiries they could not find him?—I don't know why.

Sentence of two years' hard labour passed.

SANITATION AT KOWLOON TONG

Residents Dispute With Sanitary Board

Appearing on behalf of Mrs. Chan Leung-shi, Mrs. Chan Ho-shi and Mrs. Man Kam Lo, at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday to answer summonses for failing to remove a European and a native water closet at No. 8 Dorset Crescent, Kowloon Tong, Mr. Horace Lo submitted that his clients were not the occupiers of the premises who were the real persons to be summoned.

Mr. Lo said residents of Kowloon Tong had a grievance against the Government in that after undertaking to supply water for water-closets, it had failed to do so.

The Magistrate—I am afraid, Mr. Lo, that that is not a matter for me to go into. All I am concerned with is that the Sanitary Board has given your clients three months to remove the water-closet and that they have failed to do so.

Mr. Lo said the occupier of the premises was Mr. W.V.M. Curtis, he had spoken to Mr. Curtis on the matter and he wanted to have this matter thrashed out under the lease of the house, the owner was powerless to do anything in the matter. They could not remove the water-closets without the permission of the occupier. They had sent workmen to the house, but Mr. Curtis had refused to let the workmen carry it out.

The Magistrate—Well then, I'll make an order now for you and Mr. Curtis to see that the Sanitary Board notice shall be carried out within seven days from now.

His Worship said that whether the Sanitary Board notice was reasonable or not was not for him to say. It was a matter between Mr. Lo's clients and the Board. It was not for him to go behind that notice and say whether it was right or wrong.

Mr. Lo had recently submitted that he had come to claim that

THE Y.M.C.A. HOCKEY TEAM

A Very Formidable Combination

DANGEROUS FORWARDS AND HARD-WORKING HALVES

(By Our Special Correspondent)

this lot combines extremely well. Lowe, of course, will be remembered for the many good games he put up when playing for the Club while McLellan, the captain of the side, is acknowledged to be the finest centre-half in the Colony. He has the happy knack of being able to feed the forwards at all times and is ever ready to stiffen up defence. More than once he has been described as a player with a magnet at the end of his stick. The other half is George Fowler, a really promising youngster, who will go far.

THE FORWARDS

Geoffrey Lammert, another player who has done great things for the Club, will lead the forwards and he will have Brown and his cousin Frank Lammert as his inside men. These three have learnt to understand each other's play in the few games that they have had together and they are all highly dangerous inside the circle. Sydney Fowler and T. J. Price will probably fill the outside positions, and as both of them have a lot of speed in them, they will give whoever are up against them a really tough time of it.

I would like to see a game between the "Y" and the best eleven the Hong Kong Hockey Club can pick. It would be a game worth travelling a long way to see, and although I know the Club have a very formidable side, I should be rather inclined to put my money on the "Y" should the game come off.

The Association also runs a second eleven, and while this is nowhere near the standard of the first team, they are about the average second eleven strength and should give a good account of themselves against the other second strings, and perhaps even some of the senior ones.

Although the European Y.M.C.A. hockey team have not turned out at full strength so far this season, they are one of the most talked-of combinations wherever hockey enthusiasts gather, and from all accounts and reports I have heard, they will take some beating when they do get their full side.

A few years ago, the European Y.M.C.A. ran a fairly strong team, and what they lacked in material, they made up in keenness. For the past two years, however, things have taken an entirely aspect altogether, for with D. McLellan, the well-known interport sportsman, at the head of things, hockey in the "Y" soon grew to be one of the most popular pastimes in that institution. Not only has McLellan built up the men's teams, but his advice has proved to be of the greatest help to the team run by the Ladies Section of the Association. In this direction credit also must be given Mr. E. F. Selk for the hard work he has put in.

To confine myself to the men's team, however, I shall first of all state that so far as their forward line is concerned, the European Y.M.C.A. will have no equal in the Colony this season. I shall deal with that later and as a "bully-off" will start from the goal-keeper, George Duncan, who did so much useful work between the sticks for Shamshien and who is generally acknowledged to be one of the finest goal-keepers in South China. I saw him in action in a few games and it was absolutely uncanny to see the way he stopped the shots that are fired at the goal, no matter from what range.

Murphy and Selk at full back are very reliable, and it is perhaps their perfect understanding that make them so hard to penetrate.

Then we have the halves who comprise Lowe, McLellan, and George Fowler. Like the backs,

ALLEGED BRANDING OF A MUI TSAI

Serious Charges Against Chinese Woman

Shun Lai Tsoi, a Chinese woman of middle class, appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones at Kowloon Magistracy yesterday in answer to three charges: (1) keeping an unregistered mui tsai, (2) ill-treating her, (3) beating her, knowing that she was under 16.

Inspector Fraser, attached to the S.C.A., said that on the receipt of anonymous information he went with Miss Tam of the Hongkong Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Children to a house in Booth Street. There they found the girl, Yau Yuet Ying. Miss Tam examined her in the presence of defendant and found marks of burns on her face and left leg. Asked how she had got those marks the girl said she had been burnt with joss-sticks by defendant, whom she addressed as "ah ku" (auntie). Defendant said the girl had been presented to her by a woman named Wong Yi Kwo and had received as "ginger and vinegar" money the sum of $100. She said she needed the money owing to her mother's illness. When charged she had made the following statements:

"I don't regard her as a mui tsai. I regard her as my daughter."

Court's assistance in carrying out the order of the Sanitary Board because Mr. Curtis had been obstructing him. Now he would include Mr. Curtis in that order so that if Mr. Curtis obstructed him again, then Mr. Curtis would be disobeying the Court.

"I tied her up because she stole things to eat, and as I had some joss-sticks in my hand I burnt her with them. I did not cause her bodily harm, by assaulting her; the marks on her neck are skin-disease."

Yau Yuet Ying, the little girl was at first frightened and refused to answer the interpreter, but Miss Tam managed to induce her to talk. She said the marks on her face, hand and leg had been burnt with joss-sticks by defendant who did it because she had stolen food. This burning had been done in the house in Booth Street where defendant had sent her to live with "ah pak" and "ah tse". She was tied up with a rope before being burnt.

Mr. Wynne-Jones: "I really doubt if these are burns at all. The doctor's certificate is so vague and makes no mention of the marks. I think we must have the doctor here—I must talk to him. I should hesitate to take the little girl's story that those are burns, unless there is actual medical evidence that they really are burns."

The case was adjourned here till Monday 23 for the evidence of Doctor Machie and the man "ah pak" with whom the little girl was staying.

Mr. Lo—But I don't think seven days would be sufficient for us to open negotiations with the Sanitary Board. We will probably not even receive a letter of acknowledgment in that time.

His Worship—I don't think so. I think we will leave it at that.

Asia Lands, Limited, has received the following report from their New York correspondents, E. A. Pierce & Co. Trading opinions this afternoon favoured the idea that most cleaning up in the shape of liquidation of long accounts had been accomplished. There was considerable short covering. In the late session of the market there was no particular news, except for the announcement of the Government's intention to purchase one million bushels of wheat.

Wheat: Renewed liquidation caused an early decline. The announcement that the Government is buying for cash and future delivery for relief purposes encouraged support.

Cotton: Sentiment rose strongly to the constructive side. Long liquidation seems to have dried up and hedge selling was only moderate.

Silver: Opened up higher on higher cable advices and later advanced sharply in sympathy with other markets. Bank buying persisted throughout the session.

Business Done: 2,480,000 shares.
